School:
Year:
Date of Plan:

Step 1: Self-Assessment

| Instructional Strategy           | Level/Score  | Current Student Behavior/Learning  | Changes in Students Behavior/Learning  |
|----------------------------------|--------------|--|--|
| Identifying Critical Information | 1, Beginning | Students do not focus in on critical information being taught in a lesson. | I would like to see my students focus in on the critical information being taught throughout a lesson. |

Step 2: Identify Focus Strategies

| Instructional Strategy           | Baseline Level/Score and Date            | Anticipated Midpoint Growth Level/Score and Date | Anticipated Final Growth Level/Score Goal and Date |
|----------------------------------|--|--|--|
| Identifying Critical Information | Score: 1, BeginningDate: May 2, 2012 | Score: 3, DevelopingDate: January 2013       | Score: 4, ApplyingDate: May 2013               |

Step 3: Write Measurable Goals

| Goal(s)  |
|--|
| By the end of the year, I will raise my score on identifying critical information from a 2 to a 4, and I expect to see students describing the level of importance of the information addressed in class, students explaining why the content is important to pay attention to, and students visibly adjusting their level of engagement when critical information is share. |

Step 4: Identify Specific Action Steps and Resources

| Teacher/Classroom Action Steps   | Resources and Professional Development  |
|--|---|
| -Begin the lesson by explaining why upcoming content is important-Tell students to get ready for some important information-Cue the importance of upcoming information by my tone of voice, body position, level of excitement | - Handbook for the Art and Science of Teaching-School-based professional development offerings on Design Question #2 |

Step 5: Reflection

| Goal #1   | Reflection  | Date       |
|---|---|------------|
| What am I learning about the strategy?  | I realized that I was not pointing out the importance of critical information within my lesson at the beginning of the class period. I did not begin with an activator that helped my students focus in on important vocabulary words. Today in my lesson, I started with key vocabulary and I think it allowed students the opportunity to see what words/phrases would be important for their learning. | 11/29/2012 |
| How do I need to prepare my lesson?   |   |            |
| When I am using the strategy, what do I feel is working well for me in terms of evidences of improvement in student |   |            |

Building a Community of Self-Motivated Learners Larry Ferlazzo, 2015-03-12 Award winning teacher blogger and author Larry Ferlazzo is back with more insightful research and strategies for helping students want to care more about school and learning. In his previous books on motivation Helping Students Motivate Themselves and Self-Driven Learning he tackled ways to help students build intrinsic motivation by how you use class time, manage your class, encourage students to feel positive about learning, help them not feel burned out by testing and more. In this book he looks at how teachers can create classroom conditions that are needed for motivation to grow in the first place. Ferlazzo provides research-based suggestions on what you can do today to help students want to develop qualities like physical health, grit, flow, and a desire to transfer what they're learning to life outside of school. At the end of each chapter you'll find high-interest lesson plans correlated to the Common Core ELA Literacy Standards that set the stage for long-term positive impacts. Students will read about sports stars, how maintaining a healthy lifestyle can help them achieve their goals, and other engaging topics. They will integrate information from various texts and make connections to their own lives, hopes, and dreams, a more powerful way to learn to care than being told they should. The readings for these lessons and other tools are available as free eResources on our website so you can easily print them for your students.
