Causality and Locality in Modern Physics G. Hunter, Stanley Jeffers, J.P. Vigiér, 2013-06-29 The Symposium entitled Causality and Locality in Modern Physics and Astronomy Open Questions and Possible Solutions was held at York University Toronto during the last week of August 1997 It was a sequel to a similar symposium entitled The Present Status of the Quantum Theory of Light held at the same venue in August 1995 These symposia came about as a result of discussions between Professor Stanley Jeffers and colleagues on the International Organizing Committee Professor Jeffers was the executive local organizer of the symposia The 1997 symposium attracted over 120 participants representing 26 different countries and academic institutions The broad theme of both symposia was the enigma of modern physics the non local and possibly superluminal interactions implied by quantum mechanics the structure of fundamental particles including the photon the reconciliation of quantum mechanics with the theory of relativity and the nature of gravity and inertia Jean Pierre Vigiér was the guest of honour at both symposia He was a lively contributor to the discussions of the presentations The presentations were made as 30 minute lectures or during an evening poster session Some participants did not submit a written account of their presentation at the symposium and not all of the articles submitted for the Proceedings could be included because of the publisher's page limit The titles and authors of the papers that had to be excluded are listed in an appendix

Scale Space and PDE Methods in Computer Vision

Roger S. Frantz, 2005-06-02 As everyone knows intuition is warm and fuzzy qualitative not measurable Economics on the other hand is quantitative and if it is not a hard science at least it is the queen of the social sciences It is therefore intuitively obvious that intuition and economics are as if oil and water The problem is what is intuitively obvious is not always correct And there are two major reasons why intuition and economics are not like oil and water First economics concerns itself with decision making and decisions are made in the brain The human brain is the size of a grapefruit weighing three pounds with approximately 180 billion neurons each physically independent but interacting with the other neurons What we call intuition is like decision making a natural information processing function of the brain Second despite the current emphasis on quantitative analysis and deductive logic there is a rich history of economists speaking about intuition First the human brain specifically the neocortex has a left and right hemisphere The specialized analytical style of the left hemisphere and the specialized intuitive style of the right hemispheres complement each other

Scale Space and PDE Methods in Computer Vision Ron

Kimmel, Nir Sochen, Joachim Weickert, 2005-03-31 Welcome to the proceedings of the 5th International Conference on Scale Space and PDE Methods in Computer Vision The scale space concept was introduced by Iijima more than 40 years ago and became popular later on through the works of Witkin and Koenderink It is at the junction of three major schools of thought in image processing and computer vision the design of Iijima's axiomatic approaches based on partial differential equations PDEs and variational methods for image regularization Scale space ideas belong to the mathematically best understood approaches in image analysis They have entered numerous successful applications in medical imaging and a number of other fields where they often give results of very high quality This conference followed biennial meetings held in Utrecht Corfu Vancouver and Skye It took place in a little castle Schlösschen Schönburg near the small town of Hofgeismar Germany Inspired by the very successful previous meeting at Skye we kept the style of gathering people in a slightly remote and scenic place in order to encourage many fruitful discussions during the day and in the evening

We received 79 full paper submissions of a high standard that is characteristic for the scale space conferences Each paper was reviewed by three experts from the Program Committee sometimes helped by additional reviewers Based on the results of these reviews 53 papers were accepted We selected 24 manuscripts for oral presentation and 29 for poster presentation
