Middle School General Music Elizabeth Ann McAnally, 2010-01-16 Middle School General Music is a guidebook for music teachers trying to navigate the sometimes turbulent waters of teaching middle school general music. Written by an in-service teacher, this publication contains strategies and lessons that have been tested and refined in the real world of a public school music classroom. Organized according to the nine National Standards for Music Education, each chapter presents tips and lessons for helping middle school students meet high standards in their understanding of music. Ideas include a Music Critics Unit, composition projects, rhythm games, and tips for encouraging students to sing with enthusiasm. Also contained in the book is a rationale for the inclusion of general music courses in the middle school program and tips for working with young adolescents. A list of suggested resources is included. For middle school general music teachers looking to create a program that is viable, participatory, and motivating to adolescents, this publication is a useful tool. Teaching Living

Legends Chee-Hoo Lum, Siew Ling Chua, 2016-06-30 This book traces the research on the design, implementation, and outcomes of a professional development program for in-service primary and secondary school teachers aimed at enhancing their understanding of living music traditions in Singapore and how these could be taught in the 21st-century music classroom. It proposes a professional development framework comprising the areas of Pedagogy, Practice, and Perspective to guide professional development design. The book also aims to promote further discussions on adult learning and teaching about teaching, especially with regard to developing self-efficacy to handle different music traditions in a 21st-century multi-ethnic society like Singapore. Arts Education, 2023-11-09

Arts Education A Global Affair highlights the adaptations that arts educators and researchers have undertaken to successfully adjust to the changes in arts education practices as a consequence of the global pandemic and its ongoing variants. Moreover, teaching and research in arts education have changed significantly as a consequence of the world-wide pandemic. COVID-19 Emerging variants have exacerbated the situation and show no signs of subsiding. In response to these challenges, arts educators and researchers have developed new modes of instructional delivery and data collection. These include asynchronous, synchronous, hybrid, and bi-modal online learning and online questionnaires, surveys, focus groups, and video interviews. This volume highlights the adaptations that arts educators and researchers have undertaken to successfully adjust to this new reality in education. TEACHING ENGLISH IN GLOBAL CONTEXTS: Language, Learners and Learning Valentina Canese, Susan Spezzini, 2023-11-07

Alternative Approaches in Music Education Ann C. Clements, 2010-10-16 Explore the creative ways music educators across the country are approaching emerging practices in music teaching and learning. Outlined in twenty-five unique case studies, each program offers a new perspective on music teaching and learning, often falling outside the standard music education curriculum. Find innovative ideas and models of successful practice to incorporate into your teaching, whether in school, university, or community settings. Close the gap between music inside and outside the music classroom and spark student interest The diversity of these real world case studies will inspire questioning and curiosity stimulate lively discussion and innovation and provide much food for thought Designed for music teachers preservice music education students and music education faculty this project was supported by Society for Music Teacher Education s SMTE Areas of Strategic Planning and Action on Critical Examination of the Curriculum which will receive a portion of the proceeds
