contributions to its development and Prof Xiaowen Li was one of these leading figures This book is published in memory of Prof Li The papers collected in this book cover topics from surface reflectance simulation inversion algorithm and estimation of variables to applications in optical thermal Lidar and microwave remote sensing The wide range of variables include directional reflectance chlorophyll fluorescence aerosol optical depth incident solar radiation albedo surface temperature upward longwave radiation leaf area index fractional vegetation cover forest biomass precipitation evapotranspiration freeze thaw snow cover vegetation productivity phenology and biodiversity indicators They clearly reflect the current level of research in this area This book constitutes an excellent reference suitable for upper level undergraduate students graduate students and professionals in remote sensing

Correlated neuronal activity and its relationship to coding, dynamics and network architecture Tatjana Tchumatchenko, Ruben Moreno-Bote, 2014-12-03 Correlated activity in populations of neurons has been observed in many brain regions and plays a central role in cortical coding attention and network dynamics Accurately quantifying neuronal correlations presents several difficulties For example despite recent advances in multicellular recording techniques the number of neurons from which spiking activity can be simultaneously recorded remains orders magnitude smaller than the size of local networks In addition there is a lack of consensus on the distribution of pairwise spike cross correlations obtained in extracellular multi unit recordings These challenges highlight the need for theoretical and computational approaches to understand how correlations emerge and to decipher their functional role in the brain
