Africa Water Atlas United Nations Environment Programme, 2010 This Africa Water Atlas is a visual account of Africa's endowment and use of water resources revealed through 224 maps and 104 satellite images as well as some 500 graphics hundreds of compelling photos plus a brief profile of the water situation in every country These visual elements vividly illustrate a succinct narrative describing and analysing Africa's water issues and exemplifying them through the judicious use of case studies The Atlas tells the paradoxical story of a continent with adequate renewable water resources but unequal access because the water is either abundant or scarce depending on the season or the place it explores the opportunities to develop Africa's untapped water resources and human capacities to deliver safe drinking water and sanitation services to achieve the water related Millennium Development Goals As well as hydropower and irrigation services that help support livelihoods and boost economic development

Current Literature on Science of Science, 2008 Africa's Gene Revolution Matthew A. Schnurr, 2019-11-07 As development donors invest hundreds of millions of dollars into improved crops designed to alleviate poverty and hunger Africa has emerged as the final frontier in the global debate over agricultural biotechnology The first data driven assessment of the ecological social and political factors that shape our understanding of genetic modification Africa's Gene Revolution surveys twenty years of efforts to use genomics based breeding to enhance yields and livelihoods for African farmers Matthew Schnurr considers the full range of biotechnologies currently in commercial use and those in development including hybrids marker assisted breeding tissue culture and genetic engineering Drawing on interviews with biotechnology experts alongside research conducted with more than two hundred farmers across eastern western and southern Africa Schnurr reveals a profound incongruity between the optimistic rhetoric that accompanies genetic modification technology and the realities of the smallholder farmers who are its intended beneficiaries Through the lens of political ecology this book demonstrates that the current emphasis on improved seeds discounts the geographic social ecological and economic contexts in which the producers of these crops operate Bringing the voices of farmers to the foreground of this polarizing debate Africa s Gene Revolution contends that meaningful change will come from a reconfiguration not only of the plant s genome but of the entire agricultural system Who's Who in Science and Engineering 2008-2009 Who's Who Marquis,Marquis Who's Who,2007-12 Handbook of Research on Resource Management and the Struggle for Water Sustainability in Africa Nojiyeza, Innocent Simphiwe,Mtapuri, Oliver,Bazaanah, Prosper,Netshiozwi, Edzisani Ellen,2022-01-28 Access to water and sanitation remains a critical challenge in various countries in Africa The crisis remains the crisis of governance rather than the physical and economic scarcity In most countries water is realized as a human right and subsidies are provided for the indigent households The tricky issue in rural areas remains an issue of access that is often linked to willingness and ability to pay for the installation and daily consumption The Handbook of Research on Resource Management and the Struggle for Water Sustainability in Africa presents practical examples of integrated water resources management IWRM implementation in African countries It further addresses the contemporary issues of alternative energy as part of climate change mitigation and utilizes case studies to examine how communities adapt to climate change Covering topics such as climate justice ecological governance and political ecology this major reference work is a dynamic resource for government officials sociologists climate scientists activists students and educators of higher education academicians and researchers in the fields of social sciences government developmental studies international relations and political science Population Growth and Rapid Urbanization in the Developing World Benna, Umar G.,Garba, Shaibu Bala,2016-06-07 As the global population continues to boom particularly in the developing countries it has become necessary to find ways to handle this increase through various policy tools that address population growth and urbanization problems The urbanization process has both potentials issues as well as opportunities to move societies forward that need to be exploited Population Growth and Rapid Urbanization in the Developing World examines trends challenges issues and strategies adopted by developing countries in the face of population growth and rapid urbanization and its impact on urban environments The book explores patterns of population growth and urbanization use of different governance approaches in addressing challenges as well as different tools and systems of appropriate allocation to address issues The book is a comprehensive reference for academicians students practitioners professionals managers urban planners and government officials Economics of Agricultural Development George W. Norton,Jeffrey Alwang,William A. Masters,2021-08-01 Economics of Agricultural Development examines the causes severity and effects of poverty population growth and malnutrition in developing countries It discusses potential solutions to these problems progress made in many countries in recent years and the implications of globalization for agriculture poverty and the environment Topics covered in the book include Means for utilizing agricultural surpluses to further overall economic development The sustainability of the natural resource environment Gender issues in relation to agriculture and resource use The contribution of improved technologies to agricultural development The importance of agricultural policies and institutions to development and trade Actions to encourage more rapid agricultural and economic development This new edition reflects the following developments Growth in environmental challenges due to climate change Continued progress in agricultural and economic development in many low income countries while other countries and regions are being left behind Continued growth in demand for higher valued farm products This book is essential reading for undergraduate students seeking to understand the economics of agricultural development and the world food system including environmental and human consequences international trade and capital flows It contains a wealth of real world case studies and is accompanied by a website Handbook of Water Resources Management: Discourses, Concepts and Examples Janos J. Bogardi, Joyeeta Gupta, K. D. Wasantha Nandalal, Léna Salamé, Ronald R.P. van Nooijen, Navneet Kumar, Tawatchai Tingsanchali, Anik Bhaduri, Alla G. Kolechkina, 2021-06-12 This book provides an overview of facts theories and methods from hydrology geology geophysics law ethics economics ecology engineering sociology diplomacy and many other disciplines with relevance for concepts and practice of water resources management It provides comprehensive but also critical reading material for all communities involved in the ongoing water discourses and debates The book refers to case studies in the form of boxes sections or as entire chapters They illustrate success stories but also lessons to be remembered to avoid repeating the same mistakes Based on consolidated state of the art knowledge it has been conceived and written to attract a multidisciplinary audience The aim of this handbook is to facilitate understanding between the participants of the international water discourse and multi level decision making processes Knowing more about water but also about concepts methods and aspirations of different professional disciplinary communities and stakeholders professionalizes the debate and enhances the decision making
