How to Write Better Medical Papers Michael Hanna, 2019-03-20 This book guides medical researchers through all stages of transforming their scientific data and ideas into a published paper Many researchers in medicine including the life sciences and health sciences struggle to get their research written and published Manuscripts are typically rejected and or sent back for revisions several times before ever being published One reason for this is that researchers have not received much instruction in the specific subjects and skills needed to write and publish scientific medical papers research methodology ethics statistics data visualization writing revising and the practicalities of publishing Instead of wasting the reader's time discussing trivialities of punctuation spelling etc this book tackles all the major scientific issues that routinely lead to manuscripts getting rejected from the journals The section Preparing covers the range of methodological ethical and practical aspects that researchers need to address before starting to write their paper The section Analyzing reviews commonplace problems in the statistical analysis and presentation and how to resolve those problems The section Drafting describes what to write in all the various parts of a paper the Introduction Methods Results Discussion Abstract etc The section Revising explains and illustrates how to improve the writing style of any manuscript The section Publishing discusses how to navigate the peer review process and all other practical aspects of the publishing phase This book draws on the author's decade of experience as an independent medical writer and research consultant but it is not written merely as the personal opinion of yet another expert The entire book is grounded in the existing scientific and scholarly literature with extensive references and a lengthy annotated bibliography so readers can quickly obtain more information on any aspect they want Thus this book provides a more evidence based scholarly account of how medical scientific papers should be written in order to improve medical communication and accelerate scientific progress After reading this entire book cover to cover medical researchers will know how to write better quality medical papers and they will be able to publish their work in better journals with less time and struggle This book is essential reading for anyone conducting research in clinical medicine life sciences or health sciences

little attention to cross national perspectives on student writing and its roles in wider cultural contexts Caught up in our own concerns about how U S students make the transition as writers from secondary school to postsecondary education we often overlook the fact that students around the world are undergoing the same evolution How do the students in China England France Germany Kenya or South Africa the educational systems represented in this collection write their way into the communities of their chosen disciplines How for instance do students whose mother tongue is not the language of instruction cope with the demands of academic and discipline specific writing And in what ways is U S students development as academic writers similar to or different from that of students in other countries With this collection editors David Foster and David R Russell broaden the discussion about the role of writing in various educational systems and cultures Students development as academic writers raises issues of student authorship and agency as well as larger issues of educational access institutional power relations system goals and students roles in society The contributors to this collection discuss selected writing purposes and forms characteristic of a specific national education system describe students agency as writers and identify contextual factors social economic linguistic cultural that shape institutional responses to writing development In discussions that bookend these studies of different educational structures the editors compare U S postsecondary writing practices and pedagogies with those in other national systems and suggest new perspectives for cross national study of learning writing issues important to all educational systems Given the worldwide increase in students entering higher education and the endless need for effective writing across disciplines and nations the insights offered here and the call for further studies are especially welcome and timely
