Shabanu The :

The House of Djinn Suzanne Fisher Staples, 2005-10-16 Suzanne Fisher Staples returns to modern day Pakistan to reexamine the juxtaposition of traditional Islamic values with modern ideals of love in this commanding standalone sequel to Shabanu Daughter of the Wind and Haveli. It has been ten years since Shabanu staged her death to secure the safety of her daughter Mumtaz from her husband's murderous brother. Mumtaz has been raised by her father's family with the education and security her mother desired for her but with little understanding and love. Only her American cousin Jameel, her closest confidant and friend, and the beloved family patriarch Baba understand the pain of her loneliness. When Baba unexpectedly dies, Jameel's succession as the Amirzai tribal leader and the arrangement of his marriage to Mumtaz are revealed, causing both to question whether fulfilling their duty to the family is worth giving up their dreams for the future. The House of Djinn is a 2009 Bank Street Best Children's Book of the Year.

Suzanne Fisher Staples Megan Lynn Isaac, 2009-11-25 After spending more than a decade as a journalist in South Asia, Suzanne Fisher Staples turned to writing realistic novels about young people coming of age in modern Pakistan, Afghanistan, and India, as well as the United States. Her elegant prose and compelling character development draw readers into lives and cultures that are always warmly appealing. In Suzanne Fisher Staples: The Setting Is the Story, Megan Lynn Isaac explores the award-winning novels of this unusual writer. Comprised of eight chapters, one exploring each of Staples's works: six novels and a memoir, and an additional chapter detailing the critical reception of her most famous books, the Pakistani trilogy Shabanu, Haveli, and The House of Djinn, Isaac considers the predominant themes, characters, and settings of each work and provides background information about the countries' religions, art forms, and other aspects of the cultures of South Asia that are central to Staples's writing. Original material from the author's interviews with Staples provides new insights into her work and experiences. Biographical information about Staples, both in chronological and narrative form, is also included, as well as a comprehensive bibliography of scholarly material related to Staples. This book will help scholars and fans of Staples to explore the themes and literary techniques employed by her, as well as to deepen their understanding of the cultures and traditions upon which she draws.

Haveli Suzanne Fisher Staples, 2012-09-11 The world of Newbery Honor Book Shabanu is vividly re-created in this novel of a young Pakistani woman's heartbreaking struggle against the tyranny of custom and ancient law. Shabanu, now a mother at 18, faces daily challenges to her position in her husband's household even as she plans for her young daughter's education and uncertain future. Then, during a visit to the haveli, their home in the city of Lahore, Shabanu falls in love with Omar in spite of traditions that forbid their union.

Women in Literature Jerilyn Fisher, Ellen Silber, 2003-06-30 With the literary canon consisting mostly of works created by and about men, the central perspective is decidedly male. This unique reference offers alternate approaches to reading traditional literature, as well as suggestions for expanding the canon to include more gender-sensitive works.

Covering 96 of the most frequently taught works of fiction essays offer teachers librarians and students fresh insights into the female perspective in literature The list of titles created in consultation with educators includes classic works by male authors like Dickens Faulkner and Twain balanced with works by female authors such as Kate Chopin s The Awakening and Mary Shelley s Frankenstein Also included are contemporary works by writers such as Alice Walker and Margaret Atwood that are being incorporated into the curriculum as well as those advancing a more global view such as Sandra Cisneros House on Mango Street and Chinua Achebe s Things Fall Apart The essays are expertly written in an accessible language that will help students gain greater awareness of gender related themes Suggestions for classroom discussions with selected works for further study are incorporated into the entries The volume is organized alphabetically by title and includes both author and subject indexes An appendix of gender related themes further enhances this volume s usefulness for curriculum applications and student research projects

Declarations of Independence Joanne Brown, Nancy St. Clair, 2002 Female empowerment especially among girls is one of the most significant issues to come out of the 90 s and one that will continue to play a significant role in the new millennium But how do we define empowerment And more importantly how do we identify its characteristics within literature With problems like teenage eating disorders and pregnancy still very much at the core of American society it is no surprise that a book as important as Declarations of Independence is the latest addition to Scarecrow Press s Studies in Young Adult Literature Authors Brown and St Clair use their collective expertise to uncover and trace the development of the young female protagonist from the role of submissive fairy tale maiden to the spunkier more independent girls who now appear with increasing frequency in young adult literature This next generation of heroines is the model with which today s readers can readily identify and who the authors believe become agents of social change for young women Through careful research that draws on recent scholarship about female adolescent development situates this shift to stronger female protagonists within a larger cultural context The empowered girls of this title are defined through close reading of a variety of stories and genres in which they appear historical and multicultural fiction social realism romance and adventure fantasy and memoir with emphasis on books published after 1990 The result is a collection of essays on literature about adolescent girls who have real feelings passions and sometimes rebellious attitudes and who act upon those feelings passions and attitudes to take control of their lives unlike most of their predecessors whose fulfillment lay mainly in achieving beauty and suitors With an annotated list of titles for suggested reading following each chapter Declarations of Independence is the ideal resource for middle and high school teachers for school and public librarians a
