This exciting work by a nationally known fitness and health expert is a realistic and practical guide to a healthier and happier lifestyle. Dr. Bryant Stamford, author of the highly acclaimed Fitness Without Exercise and a syndicated health columnist, and co-author Becca Coffin, a registered nurse, show how making the right choices in diet can improve health and reduce fat while allowing people to enjoy a fuller and more varied diet than other weight loss plans permit. Americans are obsessed with diets and dieting, and yet we grow fatter every year. Traditional diets offer only temporary weight loss through loss of water and muscle and do not address the real problems of dietary fat and poor eating habits. Fat is sinister, wreaking havoc on every system of the body. Eating fat results in fat people, but it also clogs the arteries, raises blood pressure, overloads the bowels and causes diabetes. To avoid the dangers of dietary fat, we need to change our eating habits. Happily, we don't have to eat less; we just need to make smarter choices about what we eat. The Jack Sprat diet plan uses a guided day by day approach geared to gender, size and physical activity level. Each of the four weeks in the plan starts with a complete grocery list, including daily menus that have been analyzed to show how many calories and grams of fat will be consumed. All menus have been analyzed also to assure fulfillment of RDA guidelines. Recipes are provided for all home prepared items in the plan and specially designed On Your Own tables help with substitutions in the daily menus. There are even sections for including fast foods and a system of controlled cheating To help ensure success Stamford and Coffin provide not only day by day and meal by meal details of what to eat but also insightful scientific background that explains why These chapters include information on how much fat one should eat how to make smart choices when choosing a menu and the benefits of light exercise The authors also present a wealth of more specific information on physiology and metabolism hormones antioxidants and phytochemicals as well as on frauds such as cellulite reducing creams and diet pills Stamford and Coffin do not offer miracles or magic but they do provide sound advice and practical guides that will be invaluable to anyone interested in losing weight and making positive lifestyle changes

Low-Calorie Foods Handbook Altschul,1993-03-12 This reference examines all aspects of low calorie foods including their history technology ingredients governing regulations position of the food market and future prospects while addressing the medical and social rationale for their development. Discussing the full range of processed foods that mimic existing foods, Low Calorie Foods Handbook provides a detailed understanding of the materials that make sugar and fat substitutes possible, such as artificial sweeteners, bulking agents, protein-based fat replacers, and noncaloric and low-calorie oils. It offers examples of technical problems that must be solved to make low-calorie foods equal in taste, smell, and texture to their normal counterparts, describes food marketing, nutrition education, recipe formulation, and the regulations that help consumers decide to use or avoid low-calorie foods, highlights the problem of obesity, changing dietary patterns, the role of low-fat diets, and the effects of artificial sweeteners on sugar consumption, and explains current research on fat reduction in meats and strategies used for replacing fat and sugar. With the contributions of nearly 40 leading experts, Low Calorie Foods Handbook is a guide for food scientists and technologists, food marketing specialists, managers and executives in the food industry, dietitians and nutritionists, primary care physicians, internists, cardiologists, and graduate-level and continuing education students in food design, food and disease, and obesity courses.

Size and Growth of the Nutritionally Improved Foods Market Elizabeth Frazão, Jane E. Allshouse, 1996. This study uses supermarket scanner data for 1989-93 to evaluate the size and growth of the market for nutritionally improved foods relative to their traditional counterparts and to determine whether nutritionally improved foods cost more than their counterparts. Sales of nutritionally improved foods grew faster than sales of regular versions in U.S. supermarkets even though nutritionally improved foods generally cost more. The study covers 37 food categories.
