Alesia Dedaa Ofori Sandra Ricart Water Resource Management in South Asia Anjal Prakash, 2022-05-29 This cluster of books presents innovative and nuanced knowledge on water resources based on detailed case studies from South Asia India Bangladesh Bhutan Nepal Pakistan and Sri Lanka In providing comprehensive analyses of the existing economic demographic and ideological contexts in which water policies are framed and implemented the volumes argue for alternative informed and integrated approaches towards efficient management and equitable distribution of water These also explore the globalization of water governance in the region particularly in relation to new paradigms of neoliberalism civil society participation integrated water resource management IWRM public private partnerships privatization and gender mainstreaming These volumes will be indispensable for scholars and students of development studies environmental studies natural resource management governance and public administration particularly those working on water resources in South Asia They will also be useful for policymakers and governmental and non governmental organizations Globalization of Water Governance in South Asia Vishal Narain, Chanda Gurung Goodrich, Jayati Chourey, Anjal Prakash, 2018-05-11

Globalization has significantly redefined the nature of governance in the water sector Non state actors multilateral and transnational donor agencies and corporations non government organizations markets and civil society at large are assuming a bigger role in public policy making for water resource management New discourses on neoliberalism integrated water resource management IWRM public private partnerships privatization and gender equity have come to influence water governance Drawing upon detailed case studies from India Bangladesh Nepal Sri Lanka and Bhutan this volume shows the implications of these new global paradigms for water allocation and management practices institutions and governance structures in South Asia It suggests that despite claims to the contrary they have done little to further human well being reduce gender disparity or improve accountability and transparency in the system Steering away from blueprint approaches it argues for a more nuanced and contextual understanding of water management challenges based on local knowledge and initiatives This book will be useful to those interested in political economy and water governance natural resource management environmental studies development studies and public administration as well as to water professionals policy makers and civil society activists Tapping the Market A. Nickson, R. Franceys, 2003-08-12 This book examines the challenge of reform of the urban water supply sector in developing countries based on case studies of state owned water companies in Ghana India Sri Lanka and Zimbabwe The growing public private partnership for urban water supply is analyzed focussing on the concession contract model The implications for meeting the water needs of the urban poor for the regulatory role of the state and for state capacity building are also discussed Water Utility Asset Management Asian Development Bank, 2014-05-01

Experiences of the Asian Development Bank ADB in the water supply sector show the consequences of inadequate asset management such as lack of customer coverage and high nonrevenue water ratios One response is lending to allow for new infrastructure Some immediate benefits may be evident but sustainability is at risk

unless better asset management is part of the solution This guide provides ADB s perspective on asset management as well as an overview of the concept processes and systems of asset management followed by a presentation of case studies about what utilities have done to manage their assets including the results achieved Technical Assistance (financed from the Japan Special Fund) to the Democratic Socialist Republic of Sri Lanka for Preparing the Secondary Towns Water Supply and Sanitation Project Asian Development Bank,2000 Report and Recommendation of the President to the Board of Directors on a Proposed Loan to the Democratic Socialist Republic of Sri Lanka for the Secondary Towns and Rural Community-based Water Supply and Sanitation Project Tadao Chino,2002 Report and Recommendation of the President to the Board of Directors on a Proposed Loan to the Democratic Socialist Republic of Sri Lanka for the Urban Development and Low-income Housing (sector) Project Mitsuo Sato,Asian Development Bank,1998 Technical Assistance, Democratic Socialist Republic of Sri Lanka Asian Development Bank,2005 Diverting the Flow Margreet Zwarteveen,Sara Ahmed,Suman Rimal Gautam,2014-03-11 Across the South Asian region water determines livelihoods and in some cases even survival However water also creates exclusions Access to water and its social organisation are intimately tied up with power relations This book provides an overview of gender equity and water issues relevant to South Asia The essays empirically illustrate and theoretically argue how gender intersects with other axes of social difference such as class caste ethnicity age and religion to shape water access use and management practices Divided into six thematic sections each of which starts with an introduction of relevant concepts debates and theories the book looks at laws and rights policies technologies and intervention strategies In all the book clearly shows how understanding and changing the use distribution and management of water is conditional upon understanding and accommodating gender relations Published by Zubaan Livelihood Enhancement Through Agriculture, Tourism and Health Narayan Chandra Jana,Anju Singh,R. B. Singh,2022-01-18 Agriculture is the backbone of our economic system It provides not only food and raw material but also employment opportunities to a very large number of people Higher atmospheric temperature has an impact on crop yields while the changes in rainfall could affect both crop quality and quantity Climate change therefore could increase the prices of major crops in some regions For the most vulnerable people lower agricultural output means lower income In addition climate change is expected to increase the risk of illness and death from extreme heat and poor air quality Recent evidence is the COVID 19 pandemic Furthermore climate change also affects the occurrence of other infectious diseases A number of well known diseases are climate sensitive malaria dengue fever and cholera among others Tourism is considered as an industry and alternative contributor to a nation s income It can generate employment opportunities and boost up the economy This book consisting of 26 chapters focuses on the issues of agriculture tourism and health for livelihood enhancement It is essential to discuss these diverse issues in the field of geography as it encompasses interdisciplinary topics The range of concerns at the national regional and local levels is not confined to geography only but also involves other disciplines as well

Postgraduate Institute of Agriculture. Congress,2005 Asian Water Supplies Arthur C. McIntosh,2003-09-30 Asian developing country urban water supplies have progressed little in the last 20 years Coverage in cities with 24 hour piped potable water is still under 50% in most cities Coverage with sewerage is much lower Unaccounted for water still averages about 35% of production The author brings his 25 years experience in developing country water supplies to bear in examining why we have failed and what must be done to get on the right track Features of this book The book identifies the myths and realities in the sector It looks at issues and solutions under a number of important topics Governance and tariffs are identified as both core problems and core solutions Reference is made to recent field data including i a survey of 20 cities in 20 countries ii case studies on water supplies in Male Manila Phnom Penh Colombo Kathmandu and Dalian and iii case studies on small scale water service providers in various cities A new approach to development and management of water supplies is proposed based on transparent government policy regulation and benchmarking and the involvement of civil society Finally the author looks at what the goals should be and a strategy to achieve those goals Asian Water Supplies will be of great value to government agencies municipalities water utilities consultants donors and non government organizations This title is not currently available to order
