South African Foreign Policy Review: Volume 1 Chris

Landsberg, Jo-Ansie van Wyk, 2012-12-27 The richness of public and academic discourses on the past present and future direction of South Africa's role in Africa and the world suggests that as a sub discipline of politics South African foreign policy is ready for a systematic and regular appraisal in the form of a series of publications that the Institute for Global Dialogue will call South African Foreign Policy Review This is also because constant changes in international and domestic circumstances impinge on the management and analysis of South Africa's foreign policy This the first review provides an important opportunity to build on existing foreign policy works in order to take stock of the road already travelled in the past decade or so This is crucial in laying some basis for anticipating the country's future role and considering the opportunities and challenges which future volumes of the review will consider This volume provides a wide ranging appraisal of the relationship between stated foreign policy goals and actual outputs and outcomes an assessment of how foreign policy has actually been operationalized and implemented To this end common themes in South African foreign policy provide the framework for the first review These include foreign policy decision making soft power dynamics in the foreign policy's strategic calculus diplomatic tools used economic diplomacy peace diplomacy and paradiplomacy South Africa's relations with key states in Africa in the global south and in the global north South Africa's approach to Africa multilateral global multilateralism governance The review hopes to stimulate further discussion and thinking on the challenges confronted and the future shape and direction of South Africa's foreign policy South African Foreign Policy Review: Volume 1, 2012

Beyond the Ancient Quarrel Patrick Hayes, Jan Wilm, 2017 In Plato's Republic Socrates spoke of an ancient quarrel between literature and philosophy which he offered to resolve once and for all by banning the poets from his ideal city Few philosophers have taken Socrates at his word and out of the ancient quarrel there has emerged a long tradition that has sought to value literature chiefly as a useful supplement to philosophical reasoning The fiction of J M Coetzee makes a striking challenge to this tradition While his writing has frequently engaged philosophical subjects in explicit ways it has done so with an emphasis on the dissonance between literary expression and philosophical reasoning And while Coetzee has often overtly engaged with academic literary theory his fiction has done so in a way that has tended to disorient rather than affirm those same theories wrong footing the normal processes of literary interpretation This volume brings together philosophers and literary theorists to reflect upon the challenge Coetzee has made to their respective disciplines and to the disciplinary distinctions at stake in the ancient quarrel The essays use his fiction to explore questions about the boundaries between literature philosophy and literary criticism the relationship between literature theology and post secularism the particular ways in which literature engages reality how literature interacts with the philosophies of language action subjectivity and ethics and the institutions that govern the distinctions between literature and philosophy It will be of importance not only to readers of Coetzee but to anyone interested in the ancient quarrel itself The Road to Democracy in South Africa: 1970-1980 South African Democracy Education Trust, 2004 v 3 The third volume in the series examines the role of anti apartheid movements around the world The global anti apartheid movement was very successful in creating awareness of the liberation struggle in South Africa and in contributing to the downfall of the apartheid government This volume in 2 parts brings together analyses which in the main are written by activist scholars with deep roots in the movements and organizations they are writing about Eggs to Lay, Chickens to Hatch Chris van Wyk, 2010-07-01 Agnes the Van Wyks Zulu housekeeper had a special friendship with young Chris in the late sixties to early seventies He would defend her whenever she came to work with a hangover on a Monday morning and made a mess of the cleaning In turn Agnes never told on Chris when he played truant from school As the years passed the two grew closer swapping stories about coloureds and Zulus life in Riverlea and Soweto pass laws politics and falling in love She taught him to count in Zulu and he promised to teach her to read in English Whenever the clock ran against her Agnes would stop almost in mid sentence grab a broom or cloth and declare I have to rush I have eggs to lay chickens to hatch What an odd ungrammatical thing to say Chris often mused But many years later he played a CD by Louis Jordan a 1940s American jazz singer and it all became clear Eggs to lay chickens to hatch forthcoming end April 2010 is Chris van Wyk s second childhood memoir about growing up in Riverlea and his colourful interactions with the men and women who lived the African proverb that it takes a village to raise a child But mostly it is the story of a wonderful friendship between a young coloured boy and a Zulu woman Yusuf Dadoo Chris Van Wyk,2006 Running with Rhinos Ed Warner,2016-03-01 Running with rhinos is not a euphemism not when you re ground support for the International Rhino Foundation s Rhino Conservancy Project Edward M Warner a self proclaimed radical conservationist presents his outrageous adventures from more than a decade of collaboration with the veterinarians and biologists who care for endangered rhinos in Africa Few if any laymen like Warner have been invited to do what amounts to some of the most dangerous volunteer fieldwork around Fewer than five thousand black rhinos remain in the wilds of sub Saharan Africa About five hundred live on private conservancies in Zimbabwe For Warner working on the frontlines of rhino conservation not only allowed him to help rhinos it gave him the opportunity to pursue and refine his emerging philosophy of radical conservationism to cultivate partnerships between local communities and private landowners in Africa and to export the lessons about land and wildlife management back home to the United States In Running with Rhinos Stories from a Radical Conservationist Warner takes readers along as he weasels his way into becoming volunteer ground support for the International Rhino Foundation s Rhino Conservancy Project or Rhino Ops in Zimbabwe It is gritty sweaty sometimes scary and exhilarating work Warner succeeds in telling a remarkable story of the extraordinary bonds between humans and their dedication to protecting endangered animals all while weaving eye opening stories about the flora fauna geology geography and politics of sub Saharan Africa Dickens and the Children of Empire W.
