

ORGANIZATIONAL DEVELOPMENT TOOL

SAMPLE QUESTIONS FOR SURFACING INFORMATION

Below are lists of questions that can be used to help surface information for scoring organizations with the Organizational Development Tool. You do not need to ask every question; nor do you need to ask them in order. You can put these questions into your own words. You can also ask questions that are not on this list. The questions should not be read like a script or a formal question-and-answer scenario. The questions should help begin and guide conversations that will surface information in a comfortable and informal conversational manner with organization representatives and to better understand their capacity in the various areas scored on the ODT. When asking for information, ask for specific examples. Engage with more than one person. Encourage diverse voices to contribute to the information shared so that you have perspective from different angles of the organization.

Identity and Agency	Structure and Function	Human Resources

Why? - What is the link that integrates the different programs that you have? - What are you most proud of as an organization? Tell me a little about your staffing. How do you identify new staff members and what do you look for in your team? - What is the balance between paid and unpaid staff? And how does that affect your work? - How do you build a sense of teamwork and unity in your teams? - How do you go about building the skills of your team? - What about volunteers?
