Computers Helping People with Special Needs, Part II Klaus Miesenberger, Joachim Klaus, Wolfgang Zagler, Arthur

Karshmer, 2010-06-29 Welcome to the Proceedings of ICCHP 2010 We were proud to welcome participants from more than 40 countries from all over the world to this year's ICCHP. Since the late 1980s it has been ICCHP's mission to support and reflect development in the field of Assistive Technologies, eAccessibility and eInclusion. With a focus on scientific quality, ICCHP has become an important reference in our field. The 2010 conference and this collection of papers once again fulfilled this mission. The International Programme Committee, comprising 106 experts from all over the world, selected 147 full and 44 short papers out of 328 abstracts submitted to ICCHP. This acceptance ratio of about half of the submissions demonstrates our strict pursuit of scientific quality both of the programme and in particular of the proceedings in your hands. An impressive number of experts agreed to organize Special Thematic Sessions (STS) for ICCHP 2010. These STS help to bring the meeting into sharper focus in several key areas. In turn, this deeper level of focus helps to collate a state of the art and mainstream technical, social, cultural and political developments.

Towards a User-centric Context Aware System Sian Lun Lau, 2012 Mobile Computing, Applications, and Services Petros Zerfos, Rebecca Montanari, Thomas Phan, 2010-06-08. This proceedings volume includes the full research papers presented at the First International Conference on Mobile Computing Applications and Services (MobiCASE) held in San Diego, California during October 26-29, 2009. It was sponsored by ICST and held in conjunction with the First Workshop on Innovative Mobile User Interactivity (WIMUI). MobiCASE highlights state of the art academic and industry research work in main topics above the OSI transport layer with an emphasis on complete end-to-end systems and their components. Its vision is largely influenced by what we see in the consumer space today: high-end mobile phones, high bandwidth wireless networks, novel consumer and enterprise mobile applications, scalable software infrastructures, and of course an increasingly larger user base that is moving towards an almost entirely mobile lifestyle. This year's program spanned a wide range of research that explored new features, algorithms, and infrastructure related to mobile platforms. We received submissions from many countries around the world, with a high number from Europe and Asia, in addition to the many from North America. Each paper received at least three independent reviews from our Technical Program Committee members during the Spring of 2009, with final results coming out in July. As a result of the review process, we selected 15 high quality papers and complemented them with six invited submissions from leading researchers, reaching the final count of 21 papers in the program.

ESORICS 2010 was the 15th edition of the event. It was held in Athens, Greece, September 20-22, 2010. The conference received 201 submissions. The papers went through a careful review process. In a first round, each paper received three independent reviews. For the majority of the papers, an electronic discussion was also organized to arrive at the final decision. As a result of the review process, 42 papers were selected for the final program, resulting in an acceptance rate of as low as 21%. The authors of accepted papers were requested to revise their papers based on the comments received The program was completed with an invited talk by Udo Helmbrecht Executive Director of ENISA European Network and Information Security Agency ESORICS 2010 was organized under the aegis of three Ministries of the Government of Greece namely a the Ministry of Infrastructure Transport and Networks b the General Secretariat for Information Systems of the Ministry of Economy and Finance and c the General Secretariat for the Governance of the Ministry of Interior Decentralization and the Government
