World Guide to Television, 1998 J. Hofmeyr, Rice, Bernard J. Rice, Butch Rice, Hofmeyr, 2003-01-01 Keeping and gaining market share is what most businesses strive for in the race to make brands profitable In a hugely competitive world customer loyalty has become a key area for concern What would happen if you could go one step further and identify not just those customers who are loyal to your brand but those who are truly committed to your product or service This book helps you to do just that Over ten years ago Jannie Hofmeyr and Butch Rice created something called The Conversion Model a technique that analyses the degree of a person's psychological commitment to anything and everything Marketers will be able to gain a strategic advantage within their market if they implement the thinking tools and strategies outlined through the use of The Conversion Model in this book

Silence Maria-Luisa Achino-Loeb,2005-12-01 This book is about silence and power and how they interact It argues that only by studying how silence works how it is implicated in the construction of meaning can we arrive at the elusive roots of power in all its dimensions Silence becomes the currency of power by delineating the margins or what we perceive and through a sleight of hand wherein behaviors undertaken in the service of self interest appear instead as inevitable and devoid of human agency The theoretical load of this argument is carried by vivid ethnographic material dealing with music linguistic behavior racial conflicts work dislocations and the construction of anthropological subjects and texts

Anthropology and Sexual Morality Carles Salazar,2006 The history of sexual morality in Ireland has been traditionally associated with repression In the last two decades however repression seems to have given way to its exact opposite But where did this repression originate And how can we account for this sudden and sweeping transformation in sexual mores Based on solid ethnographic and historical analysis of sexual morality in rural Ireland augmented by comparative data from Papua New Guinea and being informed by from Freud s emblematic concept of repression the author draws new conclusions that not only apply to the specific case of his Irish material but shed new light on the specific nature of an anthropological approach to the study of human societies Living in God's Laughter Doris M. Schoenhoff, 2023-03-30 During her many travel adventures Doris Schoenhoff has learned that clear eyes an open heart humility to adapt and a ready laugh are invaluable when crossing the border of a country and embracing a different culture Some she suggests may find as she did that it is really about being an explorer of one's spirit In a fascinating retelling of her world travels Doris chronicles diverse personal experiences including a move to New Zealand and a brush with the fated Air New Zealand Flight 901 as well as life in South Africa during Nelson Mandela's term as president Her reflections about the healing power of laughter along with her original photographs vividly bring her travel tales to life Living in God's Laughter details the adventures of an avid traveler who embraced the rich variety of humankind and the spirit of laughter while seeing the world Language Planning and Policy in Africa Richard B. Baldauf, Robert B. Kaplan, 2004 A longer range purpose is to collect comparable information on as many polities as possible in order to facilitate the development of a richer theory to guide language policy and planning in other polities that undertake the development of a national policy on languages This volume is part of an areal series which is committed to providing descriptions of language planning and policy in countries around the world
