

Providing Safe Food

FOODBORNE ILLNESS is a disease carried or transmitted to people by food.

FOODBORNE ILLNESS OUTBREAK is when two or more people experience the same illness after eating the same food.

HIGHER RISK POPULATIONS INCLUDE: infants, preschool age children, pregnant women, the elderly, people taking medications, and people who are seriously ill.

Although any type of food can become contaminated, some are better able to support the rapid growth of microorganisms than others. These foods require TEMPERATURE CONTROL FOR SAFETY (TCS). TCS foods must be kept out of the Danger Zone (41 ° - 135 °) prevent the growth of microorganisms and the production of toxins.

TCS FOODS include Milk, Eggs, Shellfish, Fish, Meats, Meat Alternatives, Untreated Garlic & Oil Mixtures, Baked Potatoes, Raw Sprouts, Cooked Rice, Cut Tomatoes, and Cut Melons.

THREE TYPES OF CONTAMINATION

- BIOLOGICAL – Bacteria, Virus, Parasites, Fungi, Natural Toxins
- CHEMICAL – Cleaners, Sanitizers, Toxic Metal from Non Food Service Grade Utensils and Cookware, Pesticides
- PHYSICAL – Foreign Objects

THE CENTER FOR DISEASE CONTROL (CDC) TOP FIVE DOCUMENTED REASONS FOR OUTBREAKS:

1. Purchasing food from unsafe sources
2. Failing to cook food adequately
3. Holding food at incorrect temperatures
4. Contaminated equipment
5. Poor personal hygiene

THREE WAYS FOOD BECOMES CONTAMINATED

- Time-Temperature Control TCS foods are left in the danger zone for > 4 hours
- Cross Contamination Contaminants cross to a food that is not going to be cooked any further
- Poor Personal Hygiene Food handlers cause the food borne illness

The Microworld

FOODBORNE INFECTIONS can result when a person eats food containing pathogens, which then grow in the intestines and cause illness. Typically symptoms do not appear for 1-3 days.

FOODBORNE INTOXICATIONS result when a person eats food containing toxins (poison) produced by pathogens found on the food or which are results of chemical contamination. Typically symptoms appear quickly, within a few hours.

BACTERIA are of the greatest concern. Bacteria are found everywhere and under favorable conditions, they can reproduce very rapidly. The acronym FATTOM stands for Food, Acidity, Temperature, Time, Oxygen and Moisture. Time & Temperature are the easiest thing for us to control.

VIRUSES are the smallest of the microbial contaminants. While a virus cannot reproduce in the food, once consumed it will cause illness. Viruses are spread from PERSON TO PERSON, PERSON TO FOOD, AND PERSON TO FOOD CONTACT SURFACES. Practicing good personal hygiene and minimizing bare-hand contact with ready -to -eat food can help defend against viral foodborne illnesses.

PARASITES are organisms that need a living host to survive. Proper cooking and freezing kills parasites.

Integrated Safety and Risk Assessment for Medical Devices and Combination Products Shayne C. Gad, 2020-02-24 While the safety assessment biocompatibility of medical devices has been focused on issues of local tissue tolerance irritation sensitization cytotoxicity and selected quantal effects genotoxicity and acute lethality since first being regulated in the late 1950s this has changed as devices assumed a much more important role in healthcare and became more complex in both composition and in their design and operation Add to this that devices now frequently serve as delivery systems for drugs and that drugs may be combined with devices to improve device performance and the problems of ensuring patient safety with devices has become significantly more complex A part of this requirements for ensuring safety once based on use of previously acceptable materials largely polymers and metals have come to requiring determining which chemical entities are potentially released from a device into patients and how much is released Then an appropriate and relevant yet also conservative risk assessment must be performed for each identified chemical structure The challenges inherent in meeting the current requirements are multifold and this text seeks to identify understand and solve all of them Identify and verify the most appropriate available data As in most cases such data is for a different route of exposure transform it for use in assessing exposure by the route of interest As the duration and rate of exposure to moieties released from a device are most frequently different longer than what available data speaks to transformation across tissue is required As innate and adaptive immune responses are a central part of device patient interaction assessing potential risks on this basis are required Incorporating assessments for special populations such as neonates Use of Q SAR Quantitative Structure Activity Relationships modeling in assessments Performance and presentation of integrative assessments covering all potential biologic risks Appendices will contain summarized available biocompatibility data for commonly used device materials polymers and metals and safety assessments on the frequently seen moieties in extractions from devices
