On the Success of Failure Karl L. Alexander, Doris R. Entwisle, Susan L. Dauber, 2003 This book is about the practice of grade retention in elementary school a particularly vexing problem in urban school systems where upward of half the students may repeat a grade On the Success of Failure addresses whether repeating a grade is helpful or harmful when children are not keeping up It describes the school context of retention and evaluates its consequences by tracking the experiences of a large representative sample of Baltimore school children from first grade through high school In addition to evaluating the consequences of retention the book describes the cohort's dispersion along many different educational pathways from first grade through middle school the articulation of retention with other forms of educational tracking like reading group placements in the early primary grades and course level assignments in middle school and repeaters academic and school adjustment problems before they were held back

Making a Difference Irwin Deutscher, 2018-01-16 Emphasis on measurement techniques can interfere with understanding how well particular social programs in their field work In Making a Difference The Practice of Sociology Irwin Deutscher links traditional sociological concerns with applied sociology in an effort to overcome this problem He contributes to the debate over the extent to which health educational and social programs initiated by the Roosevelt Kennedy and Johnson administrations have been successful in intimate human terms Deutscher believes that the introduction of a sociological perspective can provide a positive element to interdisciplinary pursuits This belief as well as his fresh perspectives on both the strengths and limitations inherent in applied sociology offer the field a revitalising lift As such this highly informative thought provoking volume will be of interest to sociologists and policy makers in health education crime welfare and housing

Children, Schools, And Inequality Doris R Entwisle,2018-03-05 Educational sociologists have paid relatively little attention to children in middle childhood ages 6 to 12 whereas developmental psychologists have emphasized factors internal to the child much more than the social contexts in explaining children s development Children Schools and Inequality redresses that imbalance It examines elementary school outcomes e g test scores grades retention rates in light of the socioeconomic variation in schools and neighborhoods the organizational patterns across elementary schools and the ways in which family structure intersects with children s school performance Adding data from the Baltimore Beginning School Study to information culled from the fields of sociology child development and education this book suggests why the gap between the school achievement of poor children and those who are better off has been so difficult to close Doris Entwistle Karl Alexander and Linda Olson show why the first grade transition how children negotiate entry into full time schooling is a crucial period They also show that events over that time have repercussions that echo throughout children s entire school careers Currently the only study of this life transition to cover a comprehensive sample and to suggest straightforward remedies for urban schools Children Schools and Inequality can inform educators practitioners and policymakers as well as researchers in the sociology of education and child development

Handbook of the Life Course Jeylan T. Mortimer,Michael J. Shanahan,2007-12-14 This comprehensive handbook provides an overview of key theoretical perspectives concepts and methodological approaches that while applied to diverse phenomena are united in their general approach to the study of lives across age phases In surveying the wide terrain of life course studies with dual emphases on theory and empirical research this important reference work presents probative concepts and methods and identifies promising avenues for future research Improving Student Achievement Lewis C. Solmon,Kimberly Firetag Agam,Tamara W. Schiff,2006-04-01 Improving Student Achievement Reforms that Work expands on the first volume in the Milken Family Foundation series on education policy Talented Teachers The Essential Force for Improving Student Achievement The series explains to policymakers parents business leaders and teachers the importance of teacher quality in increasing student achievement This volume is based primarily on the proceedings from the 2004 Milken National Education Conference NEC which was held in Washington D C in May 2004 The Long Shadow Karl Alexander,Doris Entwisle,Linda Olson,2014-05-31 A volume in the American Sociological Association s Rose Series in Sociology West Baltimore stands out in the popular imagination as the quintessential inner city gritty run down and marred by drugs and gang violence Indeed with the collapse of manufacturing jobs in the 1970s the area experienced a rapid onset of poverty and high unemployment with few public resources available to alleviate economic distress But in stark contrast to the image of a perpetual urban underclass depicted in television by shows like The Wire sociologists Karl Alexander Doris Entwisle and Linda Olson present a more nuanced portrait of Baltimore s inner city residents that employs important new research on the significance of early life opportunities available to low income populations The Long Shadow focuses on children who grew up in west Baltimore neighborhoods and others like them throughout the city tracing how their early lives in the inner city have affected their long term well being Although research for this book was conducted in Baltimore that city s struggles with deindustrialization white flight and concentrated poverty were characteristic of most East Coast and Midwest manufacturing cities The experience of Baltimore s children who came of age during this era is mirrored in the experiences of urban children across the nation For 25 years the authors of The Long Shadow tracked the life progress of a group of almost 800 predominantly low income Baltimore school children through the Beginning School Study Youth Panel BSSYP The study monitored the children s transitions to young adulthood with special attention to how opportunities available to them as early as first grade shaped their socioeconomic status as adults The authors fine grained analysis confirms that the children who lived in more cohesive neighborhoods had stronger families and attended better schools tended to maintain a higher economic status later in life As young adults they held higher income jobs and had achieved more personal milestones such as marriage than their lower status counterparts Differences in race and gender further stratified life opportunities for the Baltimore children As one of the first studies to closely examine the outcomes of inner city whites in addition to African Americans data from the BSSYP shows that by adulthood white men of lower status family background despite attaining less education on average were more likely to be employed than any other group in part due to family connections and long standing racial biases in Baltimore s industrial economy Gender imbalances were also evident the women who were more likely to be working in low wage service and clerical jobs earned less than men African American women were doubly disadvantaged insofar as they were less likely to be in a stable relationship than white women and therefore less likely to benefit from a second income Combining original interviews with Baltimore families teachers and other community members with the empirical data gathered from the authors groundbreaking research The Long Shadow unravels the complex connections between socioeconomic origins and socioeconomic destinations to reveal a startling and much needed examination of who succeeds and why
