Collapse and Transformation Guy D. Middleton, 2020-04-09 The years c 1250 to 1150 BC in Greece and the Aegean are often characterised as a time of crisis and collapse A critical period in the long history of the region and its people and culture they witnessed the end of the Mycenaean kingdoms with their palaces and Linear B records and through the Postpalatial period the transition into the Early Iron Age But on closer examination it has become increasingly clear that the period as a whole across the region defies simple characterisation there was success and splendour resilience and continuity and novelty and innovation actively driven by the people of these lands through this transformative century The story of the Aegean at this time has frequently been incorporated into narratives focused on the wider eastern Mediterranean and most infamously the Sea Peoples of the Egyptian texts In twenty five chapters written by 25 specialists Collapse and Transformation instead offers a tight focus on the Aegean itself providing an up to date picture of the archaeology before and after the collapse of c 1200 BC It will be essential reading for students and scholars of the Aegean and eastern Mediterranean regions as well as providing data and a range of interpretations to those studying collapse and resilience more widely and engaging in comparative studies Introductory chapters discuss notions of collapse and provide overviews of the Minoan and Mycenaean collapses These are followed by twelve chapters which review the evidence from the major regions of the Aegean including the Argolid Messenia and Boeotia Crete and the Aegean islands Six chapters then address key themes the economy funerary practices the Mycenaean pottery of the mainland and the wider Aegean and eastern Mediterranean region religion and the extent to which later Greek myth can be drawn upon as evidence or taken to reflect any historical reality The final four chapters provide a wider context for the Aegean story surveying the eastern Mediterranean including Cyprus and the Levant and the themes of subsistence and warfare

Dwelling(s) in Nineteenth-Century Ireland Heather Laird, Jay R. Roszman, 2023-10-15 What did it mean to have an Irish dwelling in the nineteenth century How did Irish people write about think about visually represent or imagine what constituted home Showcasing research from scholars based in Ireland the United Kingdom and further afield this interdisciplinary volume seeks to answer these questions by exploring the physicality and symbolism of Irish dwellings and the home as a place of repose exercise and work Using a range of methodological approaches including history folklore and literature this volume offers new perspectives on the material culture of home fictionalized homes social housing schemes suburban living spaces home and social mobility institutional living migration and memories of the home house and gender and eviction Rather than focus on the Big House which has already received considerable scholarly attention this volume foregrounds dwelling spaces that were especially vulnerable to economic forces the homes of the urban and rural poor Additionally the book acknowledges the importance to nineteenth century Ireland of a class that has arguably received even less attention in Irish scholarship than the poor a rising urban suburban middle class exploring their impact on housing and on cultural and leisure activities An Open Access version of Christopher Cusack's chapter Back into the old homestead The Irish Cottage in Irish American Fiction 861 1910 will be made available on publication These "Thin Partitions" Joshua Englehardt, Ivy Rieger, 2017-05-15 These Thin Partitions explores the intellectual and methodological differences that separate two of the four subdisciplines within the field of anthropology archaeology and cultural anthropology Contributors examine the theoretical underpinnings of this separation and explore what can be gained by joining them both in university departments and in field research In case studies highlighting the benefits of interdisciplinary collaboration contributors argue that anthropologists and archaeologists are simply not speaking the same language and that the division between fields undermines the field of anthropology as a whole Scholars must bridge this gap and find ways to engage in interdisciplinary collaboration to promote the health of the anthropological discipline By sharing data methods and ideas archaeology and cultural anthropology can not only engage in more productive debates but also make research accessible to those outside academia These Thin Partitions gets to the heart of a well known problem in the field of anthropology and contributes to the ongoing debate by providing concrete examples of how interdisciplinary collaboration can enhance the outcomes of anthropological research Contributors Fredrik Fahlander Lilia Fernandez Souza Kent Fowler Donna Goldstein Joseph R Hellweg Derek Johnson Ashley Kistler Vincent M LaMotta John Monaghan William A Parkinson Paul Shankman David Small 'To Aleppo gone ...': Essays in honour of Jonathan N. The Search for Atlantis Stephen Kershaw, 2018-10-02 The Atlantis story remains one of the most haunting and enigmatic tales from antiquity and one that still resonates very deeply with the modern imagination But where did Atlantis come from what was it like and where did it go Atlantis was first introduced by the Greek philosopher Plato in the fourth century BCE As he discusses about the origins of life the universe and humanity the great thinker puts forward a stunning description of Atlantis an island paradise with an ideal society But the Atlanteans soon degenerate and become imperialist aggressors they choose to fight against antediluvian Athens which heroically repels their mighty forces before a cataclysmic natural disaster destroys the warring states Plato's tale of a great empire that sank beneath the waves has sparked thousands of years of debate over whether Atlantis really existed But did Plato mean his tale as history or just as a parable to help illustrate his philosophy The Bloomsbury Handbook of Religion and Popular Music Christopher Partridge, Marcus Moberg, 2017-04-06 The Bloomsbury Handbook of Religion and Popular Music is the first comprehensive analysis of the most important themes and concepts in this field Drawing on contemporary research from religious studies theology sociology ethnography and cultural studies the volume comprises thirty one specifically commissioned essays from a team of international experts The chapters explore the principal areas of inquiry and point to new directions for scholarship Featuring chapters on methodology key genres religious traditions and popular music subcultures this volume provides the essential reference point for anyone with an interest in religion and popular music as well as popular culture more broadly Religious traditions covered include Christianity Islam Judaism Hinduism Buddhism Paganism and occultism Coverage of genres and religion ranges from heavy metal rap and hip hop to country music and film and television music Edited by Christopher Partridge and Marcus Moberg this Handbook defines the research field and provides an accessible entry point for new researchers in the field The Latinx Guide to Liberation Vanessa Pezo, 2025-02-21 Let us heal together But first I invite you to take a breath The impact of colonialism generational trauma and individual trauma is often disregarded in the Latinx community This pioneering guide addresses this trauma and takes Latinx readers on a journey of healing and liberation It explores what it means to have been systematically oppressed how it impacts us and how to change it In doing so this book challenges stereotypes unravels the shame based narratives around Latinx mental health and refocuses the conversation around cultural empowerment awareness and transformation Each chapter is enriched with historically informed psychoeducation regarding the impact of various types of trauma on Latinx mental health It also includes reflection questions and healing exercises to help readers process how they their families and communities have been impacted Accessible and interactive this is an invaluable resource for Latinx people and mental health professionals working within the Latinx community Mapping the Archaeological Continuum Stefano R.L. Campana, 2018-04-25 This book addresses the true landscape perspective approach that archaeologists in Italy and in many parts of the Mediterranean use to study the archaeology of landscapes marking a departure from the traditional site based approach The aim of the book is to promote the broader application of new paradigms for landscape analysis combining traditional approaches with multidisciplinary studies as well as comparatively new techniques such as large scale geophysical surveying airborne laser scanning and geo environmental studies This approach has yielded tangible and striking results in central Italy clearly demonstrating that identifying the archaeological continuum is a realistic aim even under the specific environmental and archaeological conditions of the Mediterranean world Bioarchaeologists Speak Out Jane E. Buikstra, 2018-10-26 Bioarchaeologists who study human remains in ancient historic and contemporary settings are securely anchored within anthropology as anthropologists yet they have not taken on the pundits the way other subdisciplines within anthropology have Popular science authors frequently and selectively use bioarchaeological data on demography disease violence migration and diet to buttress their poorly formed arguments about general trends in human behavior and health beginning with our earliest ancestors While bioarchaeologists are experts on these subjects bioarchaeology and bioarchaeological approaches have largely remained invisible to the public eye Current issues such as climate change droughts warfare violence famine and the effects of disease are media mainstays and are subjects familiar to bioarchaeologists many of whom have empirical data and informed viewpoints both for topical exploration and also for predictions based on human behavior in deep time The contributions in this volume will explore the how and where the data has been misused present new ways of using evidence in the service of making new discoveries and demonstrate ways that our long term interdisciplinarity lends itself to transdisciplinary wisdom We also consider possible reasons for bioarchaeological invisibility and offer advice concerning the absolute necessity of bioarchaeologists speaking out through social media
