The Victorian Era in Twenty-First Century Children's and Adolescent Literature and Culture Sonya Sawyer Fritz, Sara K. Day, 2018-01-19 Victorian literature for audiences of all ages provides a broad foundation upon which to explore complex and evolving ideas about young people In turn this collection argues contemporary works for young people that draw on Victorian literature and culture ultimately reflect our own disruptions and upheavals particularly as they relate to child and adolescent readers and our experiences of them The essays therein suggest that we struggle now as the Victorians did then to assert a cohesive understanding of young readers and that this lack of cohesion is a result of or a parallel to the disruptions taking place on a larger even global scale

The Coloniality of Animal Monstrous Othering in Children's Books, Films, and Toys Donna Varga,2024-08-19 The Coloniality of Animal Monstrous Othering in Children s Books Films and Toys examines how the portrayal of animals as physically distorted behaviorally depraved and intellectually defective serves to justify their debasement violation and destruction in materials directed toward young consumers The author argues that this animal monstrous Othering arises from the Eurocentric belief in humans natural superiority over animals and the right to categorize animals in accordance with a scale of worthiness that parallels the subjugation of racialized persons The chapters examine a variety of canonical figures like the dissolute wolf of Red Riding Hood stories and the disfigured titular character of the Wonky Donkey picture book alongside non canonical animals including reprobate pigs degenerate sharks self centered flamingos and wicked piranhas To counter this animal debasement Varga juxtaposes these readings with an examination of materials that articulate harmonious animal human interrelationships without dependence on styles of anthropomorphism that diminish animality

International Handbook of Children, Media and Culture Kirsten Drotner, Sonia Livingstone, 2008-02-19 This essential volume brings together the work of internationally renowned researchers each experts in their field in order to capture the diversity of children and young people's media cultures around the world Why are the media such a crucial part of children's daily lives Are they becoming more important more influential and in what ways Or does a historical perspective reveal how past media have long framed children's cultural horizons or perhaps how families however constituted have long shaped the ways children relate to media In addressing such questions the contributors present detailed empirical cases to uncover how children weave together diverse forms and technologies to create a rich symbolic tapestry which in turn shapes their social relationships At the same time many concerns even public panics arise regarding children's engagement with media leading the contributors also to inquire into the risky or problematic aspects of today's highly mediated world Deliberately selected to represent as many parts of the globe as possible and with a commitment to recognizing both the similarities and differences in children and young people's lives from China to Denmark from Canada to India from Japan to Iceland from the authors offer a rich contextualization of children's engagement with their particular media and communication environment while also pursuing cross cutting themes in terms of comparative and global trends Each chapter provides a clear orientation for new readers to the main debates and core issues addressed combined with a depth of analysis and argumentation to stimulate the thinking of advanced students and established scholars Since children and young people are a focus of study across different disciplines the volume is thoroughly multi disciplinary Yet since children and young people are all too easily neglected by these same disciplines this volume hopes to accord their interests and concerns they surely merit Toddler
