Society Nilanjan Ghosh, Pranab Mukhopadhyay, Amita Shah, Manoj Panda, 2015-09-01 This book presents an enquiry into the interface between nature economy and society which is still in its early stages notwithstanding the commendable progress and advances made in the field of environmental and natural resource economics within the ever expanding boundaries of economics as a discipline It further delineates the evolution of an inter disciplinary framework for analyzing the status the future goals mechanisms and policy instruments that can help move towards a more ecologically sustainable economically beneficial and socially just future A pre requisite for preparing a comprehensive and coherent framework involves unfolding the multiple layers of interconnectedness between the three systems nature economy and society each of which has its own internal consistencies as well as externalities Against this backdrop the book presents scholarly contributions that focus on four broadly defined building blocks namely i accounting for ecosystems services for life and human well being ii impacts of economic growth on ecosystems iii social norms equity and governance and iv alternative approaches to green and socio economic systems The analyses presented by some of the most eminent national and international scholars address the major environmental challenges that nations around the world face today and consider which specific policy directions at the international and national level are needed In particular the choices India and South Asia now face as development and environment both need to be addressed adequately touch on many of these challenges Strengthening Support for Labor

Migration in Tajikistan Asian Development Bank, 2020-12-01 Migration for work is an important livelihood option for many households in Tajikistan due to limited job opportunities Remittances from migrant workers significantly supplement the country's foreign currency reserves but the economic crisis and worldwide shutdown induced by the coronavirus disease COVID 19 have caused international migration flows to fall and remittances are projected to decline significantly This publication reviews the state of international migration out of Tajikistan and identifies the impact of COVID 19 on the movement of people and migrant workers in particular It also reviews international best practices and proposes appropriate predeparture programs post return services for Tajik migrants and ways to address migrant worker issues related to the pandemic

Chemistry for Sustainable Technologies Neil Winterton, 2021-02-04 Following the success of the first edition this fully updated and revised book continues to provide an interdisciplinary introduction to sustainability issues in the context of chemistry and chemical technology Its prime objective is to equip young chemists and others to more fully to appreciate defend and promote the role that chemistry and its practitioners play in moving towards a society better able to control manage and ameliorate its impact on the ecosphere To do this it is necessary to set the ideas concepts achievements and challenges of chemistry and its application in the context of its environmental impact past present and future and of the changes needed to bring about a more sustainable yet equitable world Progress since 2010 is reflected by the inclusion of the latest research and thinking selected and discussed to put the advances concisely in a much wider setting historic scientific technological intellectual and societal The treatment also examines the complexities and additional challenges arising from public and media attitudes to science and technology and associated controversies and from the difficulties in reconciling environmental protection and global development While the book stresses the central importance of rigour in the collection and treatment of evidence and reason in decision making to ensure that it meets the needs of an extensive community of students it is broad in scope rather than deep It is therefore appropriate for a wide audience including all practising scientists and technologists
