Practice and Profile Johan Hegeman, Margaret Edgell, Henk Jochemsen, 2011-02-28 Too many students are disappointed They want to make a difference in their chosen professions They are inspired by successful visionaries but they have little idea how to follow in their oversized footsteps Their colleges and universities promise more professional development than they can possibly deliver especially in terms of moral development for the professions Experts coming from a range of perspectives in higher education agree that moral formation for the professions must increasingly take place in higher education Tragically the recent evolution of teaching has stripped educators of much of the rationale for moral formation The recent record of moral lapses by managers testifies to this crisis of moral education The authors call for a revival of moral formation in higher education for the professions They supply the needed resources to redesign classic as well as cutting edge teaching and learning toward practical moral education in the professions This book is carefully designed to apply traditional Christian principles appropriately to evolving professional practices The authors strategies address the problems surrounding calling vocation and the growing need for virtue training in the professions In particular the authors provide clear direction for how to meet the need for professional profiles that meet the standards of the marketplace Practice and Profile provides the reader with a tested and proven model of faith formation appropriate to the professions It also goes into specific useful detail as to how the model mobilizes learning in classroom and professional settings It aids institutions of higher learning in their struggle with demands for new learning environments and new moral competencies Foremost it gives students a grasp of how to become dedicated professionals who make a difference

Race, Culture and Disability: Rehabilitation Science and Practice Fabricio E. Balcazar, Yolanda Suarez-Balcazar, Tina Taylor-Ritzler, Christopher B. Keys, 2009-06-25 Race Culture and Disability Rehabilitation Science and

Practice is a guide to understanding the research and practical issues related to race culture and disability in rehabilitation services. Due to an increase in ethnically diverse individuals with disabilities, this text is an extremely timely and relevant contribution for researchers, practitioners, and students. Race Culture and Disability brings together the work of leading researchers to explore issues of race culture and disability in rehabilitation science and practice. This unique book provides researchers and evidence-based practitioners with scientific resources to answer practical and knowledge-based questions and resolve natural tensions. Topics such as how to make disability determinations with people from diverse cultural backgrounds and non-English language populations and how to address issues of cultural competence and cultural mistrust in service provision are clearly presented. The book is enriched by the perspectives of the scientists who conduct research on the people of color with disabilities who live in this intersection, the practitioners who work with diverse populations, and the students and recent graduates who have learned and want to learn more about this research area.

Foreword by Ken Ottenbacher, PhD, Instructor Resources, Discussion Questions, Test Bank, Features: Key topics including disability, identity, psychological testing, community infrastructure, employment issues, and more. Includes 15 primary chapters that focus on conceptualizing and understanding the nature of disparities in rehabilitation access, use, and outcomes, and present models for reducing these disparities. Three additional chapters offer integrative commentaries on the primary chapters from the perspectives of researchers, practitioners, and students. Examples and case studies throughout, as well as an annotated bibliography and a glossary of key concepts, serve to enhance student learning.

Instructor Resources, Discussion Questions, Test Bank, Culture in Occupational Therapy, Physical Therapy, Rehabilitation, Counseling, Rehabilitation Psychology, Disability Studies Programs. 2010, 418 pages.
