Supporting Teacher Development Debra Eckerman Pitton,2016-04-14 This text provides opportunities for administrators to use evaluation processes more effectively to support teacher development Through the use of practice scenarios and communication exercises principals can develop a more supportive relational process for teacher evaluation Too often principals provide evaluation feedback in ways that do not resonate with teachers This text examines the communicative process and provides practice and skill building opportunities that will enable principals to develop supportive environments that help teachers continue to grow Integrating Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics Léonie Rennie,Grady Venville,John Wallace,2012-05-23 How can curriculum integration of school science with the related disciplines of technology engineering and mathematics STEM enhance students skills and their ability to link what they learn in school with the world outside the classroom Featuring actual case studies of teachers attempts to integrate their curriculum their reasons for doing so how they did it and their reflections on the outcomes this book encourages science educators to consider the purposes and potential outcomes of this approach and raises important questions about the place of science in the school curriculum It takes an honest approach to real issues that arise in curriculum integration in a range of education contexts at the elementary and middle school levels The clear documentation and critical analysis of the contribution of science in curriculum integration its implementation and its strengths and weaknesses will assist teachers science educators and researchers to understand how this approach can work to engage students and improve their learning as well as how it does not happen easily and how various factors can facilitate or hinder successful integration Constructing Scientific Understanding Through Contextual Teaching Peter Heering,Daniel Osewold,2007-01-01 Learning by Doing is about the history of experimentation in science education The teaching of science through experiments and observation is essential to the natural sciences and its pedagogy These have been conducted as both demonstration or as student exercises The experimental method is seen as giving the student vital competence skills and experiences both at the school and at the university level This volume addresses the historical development of experiments in science education which has been largely neglected so far The contributors of Learning by Doing pay attention to various aspects ranging from economic aspects of instrument making for science teaching to the political meanings of experimental science education from the 17th to the 20th century This collected volume opens the field for further debate by emphasizing the importance of experiments for both historians of science and science educators Pr sentation de l diteur Harcourt Science: Physical science [grade] 6, units E and F, teacher's ed ,2000 Harcourt Science: Physical science, [grade] 4, Units E and F, teahcer's ed.
