When something starts to go in the African press, certain newspapers, the things that they start, it is very predictable. That is why we often do better comparisons in their content to North America where you find the same kind of editorial advertising is common as the U.S. business press would do.

This monograph also offers practitioners an additional guide to the reading level, grade range, and content area, as well as the format, length, and quality of the print material and the accompanying audio and video materials. It also offers an annotated list of current and planned publications concerning practice in the classroom. In an accompanying section, there are numerous new and revised references and the glossary and subject listing are also included. The monograph is available in print and on CD-ROM.
