Protective Behaviours And Activities:

Protective Behaviours Simon Sneath, Anna Hicks, Jodie Bodsworth, Anna Carter, 2009 Protective Behaviours is a practical resource that has evolved from the tried and tested ideas and experience of a group of teachers The book contains whole lesson plans and lists of activity suggestions which can be adapted to suit children's ages and needs and are intended as a reference for using the Protective Behaviours process It will help children to Make safer choices Stand up to bullying behaviours Deal with transition and change Cope with divorce loss and separation Develop a vocabulary of feelings The activities are linked to different themes and coded to suggest suitable age groups and group sizes The book includes a brief explanation of the Protective Behaviours process Teaching Protective Behaviours to Young Children Carolyn Gelenter, Nadine Prescott, Belinda Riley, 2017-07-05 This programme aims to provide children aged 4-7 years with awareness and strategies for keeping safe Although it may be difficult to accept children and young people from any community including those with disabilities can be put at risk of harm abused or hurt regardless of their age gender religion or ethnicity All children have the right to be safeguarded from abuse or neglect so they have the opportunity to reach their potential and be successful adults Protective behaviours teaches children to develop an awareness of personal safety helps them to identify and express their feelings make choices and solve problems First Steps to Safety has taken the core protective behaviour principles and created a teaching framework with overarching aims with supporting lesson plans resources and activities in a 10 week programme that can be picked up and used by anyone in school wanting to empower children and young people of any age and any capability to develop personal safety The information and strategies provided to children are generic and applicable across a range of situations that may arise for example bullying internet safety being harmed feeling sad or feeling unsafe Sessions include my body parts showing my feelings my body thoughts and feelings all go together feeling safe behaviour choices to empower children to feel safe and know they have a right to feel safe to give children the confidence and ability to assertively manage their own safety to children the skills to take responsibility for their own bodies thoughts feelings and behaviour to enable children with a range of communication abilities to ask for help for children to have awareness of their body thoughts feelings and behaviour have a vocabulary to express how their thoughts and feelings affect their bodies know the early warning signs for feeling unsafe know they can make different behaviour choices based on feelings and know who good people are to go to for help and how to ask for help Protective Behaviours Step by Step Beth Melican, 1996 Handbook of Health Behavior Research I David S. Gochman, 1997-08-31 The primary objective of this Handbook is to provide statements about health behaviour research as a basic body of knowledge moving into the 21st century It is expected that the Handbook will remain in use and current through 2005 at least The Handbook presents a broad and representative selection of mid 1990s health behaviour findings and concepts in a single work While texts and books of readings are available in related areas such as health psychology medical anthropology medical sociology behavioural health behavioural risk factors and changing health behaviours none of these works was intended to address basic research generated knowledge of health behaviour and none was intended to transcend individual disciplines Accordingly none of these works presents a broad and representative spectrum of basic health behaviour research reflecting multidisciplinary activities One work with a title identical to this one but for one word the Handbook of Health Behaviour Change Shumaker et al 1990 deals almost exclusively with applications This Handbook thus presents the reader with the state of the art in health behaviour research something not found elsewhere Creative Ideas for Assessing Vulnerable Children and Families Katie Wrench, 2018-06-21 Providing creative ideas and activities to support busy social workers in assessing the needs of vulnerable children and their families or caregivers this book is based upon tried and tested methods from an experienced social worker and offers handy practical hints throughout Ideal as a quick reference guide for everyday practice Transforming Protection Rachel Julian, 2025-06-26 Unarmed Civilian Protection UCP is practised globally by civilians protecting fellow civilians without the use of weapons This book argues that while UCP is useful and transformative in its own right its principles and values mean it has the potential to transform our responses in a range of social contexts where there is violence Chapters investigate the relationship between power protection and peace community led aspects of protection and successful behaviours and actions in protection The book argues that when UCP is accepted as a viable form of protection from direct violence there are wider implications for communities security and violence In turn these insights can provide us with new models for ensuring people's safety Putting Fear of Crime on the Map Bruce J. Doran, Melissa B. Burgess, 2011-09-21 Since first emerging as an issue of concern in the late 1960s fear of crime has become one of the most researched topics in contemporary criminology and receives considerable attention in a range of other disciplines including social ecology social psychology and geography Researchers looking the subject have consistently uncovered alarming characteristics primarily relating to the behavioural responses that people adopt in relation to their fear of crime This book reports on research conducted over the past eight years in which efforts have been made to pioneer the combination of techniques from behavioural geography with Geographic Information Systems GIS in order to map the fear of crime The first part of the book outlines the history of research into fear of crime with an emphasis on the many approaches that have been used to investigate the problem and the need for a spatially explicit approach The second part provides a technical break down of the GIS based techniques used to map fear of crime and summarises key findings from two separate study sites The authors describe collective avoidance behaviour in relation to disorder decline models such as the Broken Windows Thesis the potential to integrate fear mapping with police community partnerships and emerging avenues for further research Issues discussed include fear of crime in relation to housing prices and disorder the use of fear mapping as a means with which to monitor the impact of Closed Circuit Television CCTV and fear mapping in transit environments Sustainable Tourism IX J. Casares, F. Pineda, 2020-09-28 Today tourism is an important component of development not only in economic terms but also for knowledge and human welfare Tourism today is an activity accessible to a growing number of people The phenomenon has many more advantages than disadvantages New forms of economic development and increasing wealth of human societies depend on tourism Our knowledge of the world now includes a strong component due to tourism Human welfare has physiological and psychological elements which tourism promotes both because of the enjoyment of knowing new territories and increasing contacts with near or far away societies and cultures The tourism industry has nevertheless given rise to some serious concerns including social costs and ecological impacts Many ancient local cultures have practically lost their identity Their societies have orientated their economy only to this industry Both the natural and cultural rural or urban landscapes have also paid a high price for certain forms of tourism These problems will persist if the economic benefit is the only target leading to economic gains that eventually become ruinous It is also important to consider that visitors nowadays are increasingly demanding in cultural and environmental terms Never before have transport and communication links been so important as today Natural ecosystems are now a rarity on the planet and ecologists talk today about socio ecosystems Given this tourism and environmental education are facing a major challenge Tourism also plays an important role in the natural environmental changes that are strongly affected by technological and social developments Natural changes are inherent in the Earth s ecosystem the ecosphere Also technological and social changes are inherent to mankind the noosphere and are now becoming widespread Cities are growing rapidly and industry requires increasingly larger areas Many traditional rural areas are being abandoned However many historic agricultural districts have maintained or even recovered their local population numbers through intelligent strategies of tourism focused on nature and rural culture Natural landscapes and biodiversity are becoming increasingly appreciated The tourism industry must be able to respond to these aspirations The 9th International Conference on Sustainable Tourism had the aim of finding ways to protect the natural and cultural landscape through the development of new solutions which minimise the adverse effects of tourism A selection of the papers presented at the meeting form this volume
