analysis of the archaeologies and histories of the northern fringe of Europe this book provides a focus on animistic shamanistic cosmologies and the associated human environment relations from the Neolithic to modern times The North has fascinated Europeans throughout history as an enchanted world of natural and supernatural marvels a land of light and dark of northern lights and the midnight sun of witches and magic and of riches ranging from amber to oil Northern lands conflate fantasies and realities Rich archaeological historical ethnographic and folkloric materials combine in this book with cutting edge theoretical perspectives drawn from relational ontologies and epistemologies producing a fresh approach to the prehistory and history of a region that is pivotal to understanding Europe wide processes such as Neolithization and modernization This book examines the mythical and actual northern worlds with northern relational modes of perceiving and engaging with the world on the one hand and the place of the North in European culture on the other This book is an indispensable read for scholars of archaeology anthropology cultural studies and folklore in northern Europe as well as researchers interested in how the North is intertwined with developments in the broader European and Eurasian world It provides a deep time understanding of globally topical issues and conflicting interests as expressed by debates and controversies around Arctic resources nature preservation and indigenous rights Engineering and Mining

Journal-press ,1924 Re-Mapping Archaeology Mark Gillings,Piraye Hacıgüzeller,Gary Lock,2018-07-27 Maps have always been a fundamental tool in archaeological practice and their prominence and variety have increased along with a growing range of digital technologies used to collect visualise query and analyse spatial data However unlike in other disciplines the development of archaeological cartographical critique has been surprisingly slow a missed opportunity given that archaeology with its vast and multifaceted experience with space and maps can significantly contribute to the field of critical mapping Re mapping Archaeology thinks through cartographic challenges in archaeology and critiques the existing mapping traditions used in the social sciences and humanities especially since the 1990s It provides a unique archaeological perspective on cartographic theory and innovatively pulls together a wide range of mapping practices applicable to archaeology and other disciplines This volume will be suitable for undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as for established researchers in archaeology geography anthropology history landscape studies ethnology and sociology
