Course Description

The focus of this course is on the commonly diagnosed behavior pathologies; biological, social, cultural, and developmental antecedents of abnormal behavior; principles of learning, perception and motivation, as they relate to psychopathology. Please note that we will be talking about a lot of different mental disorders.

There are 3 major goals: 1.) Providing students with in-depth understanding of mental health concerns and disorders. 2.) broadening knowledge of research methods used to perform scientific investigations of stress and health impacts on children, adults, and families; and 3.) deepening students' ability to evaluate physical and psychological costs and benefits

Required Textbook

Ray, W. J. (2023). Abnormal psychology (3rd ed.). Sage Publication. ISBN: 9781544399201

Lecture

Students are expected to attend each lecture and are responsible for knowing all material covered. Read the assigned reading prior to each class in order to participate actively in discussion. Please be on-time – arriving late is disruptive to other students and to the class. Participation is expected. All students will be called on at some point in class.
