

PSYCHOLOGY 105 STUDY GUIDE

Developmental Psychology

Basic questions of Developmental Psychology

- Describing development
- vs. explaining development.

What is developmental psychology?

- A science involving in the description and explanation of changes over time in the structure, thought or behavior of a person.
- Note... Not just development. Always development in relation to a specific ability or trait:
 - Language, emotion, personality, morality, gender, understanding the world of physical objects and the social world.

Theme: Biology and Environment (Nature Nurture)

- Biology - The genes we receive from parents. Development as a process of maturation.
- Why not nature/nurture? Because environments can be physical as well as social and cultural, can begin early even prenatally.

Where does knowledge come from?

- It is learned via experience, emphasis on rearing environment and specific of learning. Idea of the blank state.
 - Theories that emphasize learning from the environment suggest limited initial structure.
 - There is a general appeal of blank state theories and they dominated early developmental science:
 - Pavlov's classical conditioning.
 - Watson's research on Little Albert.
 - Skinner's operating conditioning.
 - Blank slate style theories imply a domain general organization for mind.
 - A single general purpose processor/learning device must be responsible for ALL learning, no matter its content (music, math, people, w/e).
 - But human brains can solve a huge variety of different problems... and some people doubt there are really any general solutions to such a variety of problems.
- Or is coded for in the genes. Development is a process of triggering or maturing this knowledge. Idea of initial knowledge.
 - Biology = core knowledge = domain specialized organization.
 - An alternative is that the mind-brain must be organized to allow specialized learning.
