Technological Innovation in Legacy Sectors William B. Bonvillian, Charles Weiss, 2015-08-18 The American economy faces two deep problems expanding innovation and raising the rate of quality job creation Both have roots in a neglected problem the resistance of Legacy economic sectors to innovation While the U S has focused its policies on breakthrough innovations to create new economic frontiers like information technology and biotechnology most of its economy is locked into Legacy sectors defended by technological economic political social paradigms that block competition from disruptive innovations that could challenge their models Americans like to build technology covered wagons and take them out west to open new innovation frontiers we don't head our wagons back east to bring innovation to our Legacy sectors By failing to do so the economy misses a major opportunity for innovation which is the bedrock of U S competitiveness and its standard of living Technological Innovation in Legacy Sectors uses a new unifying conceptual framework to identify the shared features underlying structural obstacles to innovation in major Legacy sectors energy air and auto transport the electric power grid buildings manufacturing agriculture health care delivery and higher education and develops approaches to understand and transform them It finds both strengths and obstacles to innovation in the national innovation environments a new concept that combines the innovation system and the broader innovation context for a group of Asian and European economies Manufacturing is a major Legacy sector that presents a particular challenge because it is a critical stage in the innovation process By increasingly offshoring production the U S is losing important parts of its innovation capacity Innovate here produce here where the U S took all the gains of its strong innovation system at every stage is being replaced by innovate here produce there which threatens to lead to produce there innovate there To bring innovation to Legacy sectors authors William Bonvillian and Charles Weiss recommend that policymakers focus on all stages of innovation from research through implementation They should fill institutional gaps in the innovation system and take measures to address structural obstacles to needed disruptive innovations In the specific case of advanced manufacturing the production ecosystem can be recreated to reverse jobless innovation and add manufacturing led innovation to the U S's still strong research oriented innovation system Lightweight Polymer Composite Structures Sanjay Mavinkere Rangappa, Jyotishkumar

Parameswaranpillai, Suchart Siengchin, Lothar Kroll, 2020-09-01 This book provides a comprehensive account of developments in the area of lightweight polymer composites It encompasses design and manufacturing methods for the lightweight polymer structures various techniques and a broad spectrum of applications The book highlights fundamental research in lightweight polymer structures and integrates various aspects from synthesis to applications of these materials Features Serves as a one stop reference with contributions from leading researchers from industry academy government and private research institutions across the globe Explores all important aspects of lightweight polymer composite structures Offers an update of concepts advancements challenges and application of lightweight structures Current status trends future directions and opportunities are discussed making it friendly for both new and experienced researchers The Lived Experience of Climate Change Dina Abbott, Gordon Wilson, 2015-04-22 This book explores the idea that daily lived experiences of climate change are a crucial missing link in our knowledge that contrasts with scientific understandings of this global problem It argues that both kinds of knowledge are limiting the sciences by their disciplines and lived experiences by the boundaries of everyday lives Therefore each group needs to engage the other in order to enrich and expand understanding of climate change and what to do about it Complemented by a rich collection of examples and case studies this book proposes a novel way of generating and analysing knowledge about climate change and how it may be used The reader is introduced to new insights where the book Provides a framework that explains the variety of simultaneous co existing and often contradictory perspectives on climate change Reclaims everyday experiential knowledge as crucial for meeting global challenges such as climate change Overcomes the science citizen dichotomy and leads to new ways of examining public engagement with science Scientists are also human beings with lived experiences that filter their scientific findings into knowledge and actions Develops a public action theory of knowledge as a tool for exploring how decisions on climate policy and intervention are reached and enacted While scientists physical and social seek to explain climate change and its impacts millions of people throughout the world experience it personally in their daily lives The experience might be bad as during extreme weather engender hostility when governments attempt mitigation and sometimes it is benign This book seeks to understand the complex often contradictory knowledge dynamics that inform the climate change debate and is written clearly for a broad audience including lecturers students practitioners and activists indeed anyone who wishes to gain further insight into this far reaching issue Supplementary Protection Certificates for Medicinal Products Georgia A. Roussou, 2023-01-20 This book explores whether the judicial developments related to the Supplementary Protection Certificate SPC regulation correspond to the objectives of the European legislator Examining the role of SPCs for medicinal products in the European patent system it highlights both the jurisprudence of the Court of Justice of the European Union and the respective judgements of the member states national courts Molecular Diagnostics George P. Patrinos, Wilhelm Ansorge, Phillip B. Danielson, 2016-10-27 Molecular Diagnostics Third Edition focuses on the technologies and applications that professionals need to work in develop and manage a clinical diagnostic laboratory Each chapter contains an expert introduction to each subject that is next to technical details and many applications for molecular genetic testing that can be found in comprehensive reference lists at the end of each chapter Contents are divided into three parts technologies application of those technologies and related issues The first part is dedicated to the battery of the most widely used molecular pathology techniques New chapters have been added including the various new technologies involved in next generation sequencing mutation detection gene expression etc mass spectrometry and protein specific methodologies All revised chapters have been completely updated to include not only technology innovations but also novel diagnostic applications As with previous editions each of the chapters in this section includes a brief description of the technique followed by examples from the area of expertise from the selected contributor The second part of the book attempts to integrate previously analyzed technologies into the different aspects of molecular diagnostics such as identification of genetically modified organisms stem cells pharmacogenomics modern forensic science molecular microbiology and genetic diagnosis Part three focuses on various everyday issues in a diagnostic laboratory from genetic counseling and related ethical and psychological issues to safety and quality management Presents a comprehensive account of all new technologies and applications used in clinical diagnostic laboratories Explores a wide range of molecular based tests that are available to assess DNA variation and changes in gene expression Offers clear translational presentations by the top molecular pathologists clinical chemists and molecular geneticists in the field
