

RATING GUIDE

FIND SUITABLE PLAYING PARTNERS AND ENJOY PLAYING TENNIS MORE.

HOW TO:

- Use the Rating Guide which identifies and describes different levels of tennis ability.

PURPOSE:

- Find your own general level of tennis ability.
- Find players of a similar level so that you can have competitive games.
- Play an individual at a higher level using handicap scoring to make the game more competitive.
- Participate in group lessons or league play with people of similar ability.

GUIDELINES TO RATE YOURSELF:

- Study the rating chart.
- Start reading from the top of the chart, beginning with Level 1.0.
- Find the level that best describes your general level of play.
- Ask your Instructor or Coach to validate your rating, if you think that will help.
- Remember that as you play more, and improve, your rating may improve.
- Update your rating periodically.
- Results in social and competitive matches will validate whether your chosen level is reasonably accurate.

4.0	Able to develop points with some consistency by using a reliable combination of shots. Erratic when attempting a quality shot when receiving fast or wide balls, and when attempting passing shots.	Difficulty in returning spin serves and very fast serve. On moderately paced serves, can construct the point through hitting a good shot or exploiting an opponent's weakness. In doubles, can vary returns effectively on moderately paced serves.	In singles, comfortable at following an approach shot to the net in doubles. Comfortable receiving a variety of balls and converting to offensive. Can handle back on break returns of serves. Able to put away easy overheads.	Can vary the speed and direction of the first serve. In doubles, has difficulty (less than 50%) returning a first serve at the feet of the incoming serve and volleyer.	When coming to the net after serving, consistently able to put the first volley in play but without pace or depth; however, inconsistent when trying to volley powerful or angled returns. Close to the net, can finish a point using various options including drop volley, angle volley, and punch volley.	Aggressive first serve, power and spin. On second serve frequently hits with good depth and placement without double faults. Can serve and volley off first serves in doubles, but exhibits some inconsistency.
5.0	Able to maintain a consistent rally, 10 balls in a row on strokes or has a dominant shot. Periodically succeeds (50%) when attempting a quality shot when receiving fast or wide balls, and in passing shot situations.	Periodically succeeds (less than 50%) at returning first serve using dominant stroke (forehand or backhand). In doubles, can return at the feet of serve and volleyer.	In doubles, after the serve, has a good deep crosscourt volley. Overhead can be hit from almost any position.	First serve can win points frequently. Second serve can prevent the opponent from attacking. Serve and volleys on first serves in doubles with consistency.
5.5	This player has developed a gamestyle which is recognizable as an all court player, an aggressive baseliner, a serve and volleyer, or a retriever. Has developed good anticipation either technically (can read toss on serve, body position, etc.) or conceptually (effectively against a hard ball, wide ball or in passing shot situations). Capable of competing in "open" category provincial level tournaments. Ability to use specific shots in order to exploit opponent's weakness: drop shot, lob, angle, moonball etc.
6.0	These players will generally not need a rating. Rankings or past rankings will speak for themselves.
7.0	The 6.5 player has extensive international "open" level tournament experience at the entry level (not yet a Challenger or Satellite level).
	The 7.0 is a world class professional tennis player.
