Mierzejewski, Jarosław Jura, Bartosz Kowalski, Mario Esteban, 2025-10-21 This book provides an in depth analysis of China led multilateralism and decodes China s narratives and political and business practices both from theoretical and practical dimensions Introducing the mechanisms that govern China led multilateral formats in what China sees as the Global South the study offers a comparative analysis and checks whether China uses a one size fits all strategy towards the selected case study formats and adopts a more differentiated regional approach The case studies cover the following China led multilateral formats China ASEAN Forum on China Africa Cooperation FOCAC China Central and Eastern Europe and China CELAC The authors introduce four primary practices of China s management of relations within these platforms executing discursive power cultivating elite diplomacy influencing public opinion and navigating economic interactions to illustrate the bilateral and informal nature of China led multilateralism practices They argue that the bilateral approach is driven by China s will to keep its paramount position within the formats and its pursuit to exploit the divisions among countries in these formats Moreover China s relations with the Global South community are governed by informal networks that give the impression of non interference and position China as the principal power due to these relationships inherent asymmetry Cognizant of bilateral and informal drivers of China s multilateral practices the book compares China s relations with selected case studies of countries under the multilateral umbrella Brazil Cambodia Chile Kenya Poland Serbia South Africa and Thailand It considers the growing tensions between China and the West surrounding the crisis of the COVID 19 pandemic the centralisation of power in China and the Russian war in Ukraine Shedding light on China s policies and practices on bilateral and multilateral levels this book will be of interest to researchers studying International Relations Asian Politics the politics of the Global South and Chinese Studies Action without Hope Nathan K. Hensley, 2025-06-04 A study of how writers from the early phases of our prolonged climate emergency used aesthetic strategies to redefine the category of action What does it feel like to live helplessly in a world that is coming undone Nathan Hensley turns to Victorian literature to uncover a prehistory of this deeply contemporary sense of powerlessness For many in nineteenth century Britain their world seemed so scarred by human rapacity that restoring it seemed beyond the powers of any one individual Like George Eliot s characters in Middlemarch or the doomed lovers of Wuthering Heights observers of the gathering carbon economy felt themselves ensnared by interlocked and broken systems In the face of damage so vast and apparently irreversible what could possibly be done To answer this question Hensley shows that nineteenth century writers and artists devised new ways to understand action and hope They rescaled action away from the grandly heroic and toward minor adjustments and collaborative interventions They turned away from logical proofs and direct argumentation and instead called on aesthetic technologies like sonnets and fractured lyrics watercolor sketches and vast multiplot novels finding scope for action not at the level of the theme or the thesis but in gestures and details Ranging from J M W Turner s painterly technique to Emily Bront s dreamlike fragments and reading along the way works by Alfred Lord Tennyson H G Wells Lewis Carroll Gerard Manley Hopkins William Berryman Charlotte Bront George Eliot and Christina Rossetti Hensley s study makes an important contribution to Victorian studies and the environmental humanities

International Law as Behavior Harlan Grant Cohen, Timothy Meyer, 2021-04 Using a multi disciplinary approach this volume shows how international law shapes behavior Towards Elimination of Dog Mediated Human Rabies Salome Dürr, Anna Sophie Fahrion, Lea Knopf, Louise Taylor, 2017-10-06 Rabies is an ancient zoonotic viral disease that still exerts a high impact on human and animal health The disease is almost 100% fatal after clinical signs appear and it kills tens of thousands of people per year worldwide particularly in Africa and many parts of Asia Although the disease in humans can be prevented by timely post exposure prophylaxis its access and affordability is limited in rabies endemic countries With 99% of infections in humans caused by rabid domestic dog bites controlling the infection in this reservoir population has been proven to be most effective to reduce and eliminate human rabies cases In this context this Research Topic invited contributions on the control and elimination of dog mediated human rabies Publications on epidemiological educational policy related and economic aspects of dog and human rabies surveillance implementation of control in dogs and humans and scientific documentation of success stories were consolidated We hope that these articles contribute to reaching the ambitious goal set by key players in global health of the elimination of dog mediated human rabies by 2030

Donald Davidson on Truth, Meaning, and the Mental Gerhard Preyer, 2012-09-06 The analysis of the connections between truth meaning thought and action poses a major philosophical challenge one that Donald Davidson addressed by establishing a unified theory of language and mind This volume offers a reappraisal of Davidson s intellectual legacy Twelve specially written essays by leading philosophers in the field illuminate a range of enduring philosophical problems and engage in particular with Ernie Lepore and Kirk Ludwig's interpretation of Davidson's philosophy. The collection affirms Davidson's continuing influence on the study of language, mind and action and offers a variety of new perspectives on his work.

China in India's Neighbourhood Anita Sengupta, Priya Singh, 2024-04-30. This book explores the scope and extent of the growing Chinese influence in India's neighbourhood and its impact on India as well as on Asian power politics. Through theoretical narratives and detailed case studies it examines Chinese bilateral relationships in the Indian neighbourhood and looks at the extent and significance of Chinese influence through the lens of strategic economic and infrastructural arrangements and Chinese interventions in South Southeast and Central Asia. The book takes into account regional voices and domestic political compulsions in understanding what they make of the Chinese narrative and examines how and whether the narrative has changed in recent years through the Belt and Road Initiative (BRI) as an instrument of Chinese public diplomacy. The volume also discusses how domestic narratives and compulsions in the Indian neighbourhood remain significant and how these in turn would impact the trajectory of Chinese public diplomacy. Intertwined through all these themes is a focus on the extent to which these could become potential flashpoints for India. This book will be a useful resource for academics and researchers working on Asian geopolitics and geo economics, Chinese foreign policy, Chinese politics, international relations of Asia, Asian dynamics and Asian studies.

White World Order, Black Power Politics Robert Vitalis, 2015-12-09. Racism and imperialism are the twin forces that propelled the course of the United States in the world in the early twentieth century and in turn affected the way that diplomatic history and international relations were taught and understood in the American academy. Evolutionary theory, social Darwinism and racial anthropology had been dominant doctrines in international relations from its beginnings; racist attitudes informed research priorities and were embedded in newly formed professional organizations. In White World Order, Black Power Politics, Robert Vitalis recovers the arguments, texts and institution building of an extraordinary group of professors at Howard University including Alain Locke, Ralph Bunche, Rayford Logan, Eric Williams and Merze Tate, who was the first black female professor of political science in the country. Within the rigidly segregated profession, the Howard School of International Relations represented the most important center of opposition to racism and the focal point for theorizing feasible alternatives to dependency and domination for Africans and African Americans through the early 1960s. Vitalis pairs the contributions of white and black scholars to reconstitute forgotten historical dialogues and show the critical role played by race in the formation of international relations.
