Visions of Cell Biology Karl S. Matlin, Jane Maienschein, Manfred D. Laubichler, 2018-01-19

Although modern cell biology is often considered to have arisen following World War II in tandem with certain technological and methodological advances in particular the electron microscope and cell fractionation its origins actually date to the 1830s and the development of cytology the scientific study of cells By 1924 with the publication of Edmund Vincent Cowdry's General Cytology the discipline had stretched beyond the bounds of purely microscopic observation to include the chemical physical and genetic analysis of cells Inspired by Cowdry's classic watershed work this book collects contributions from cell biologists historians and philosophers of science to explore the history and current status of cell biology Despite extraordinary advances in describing both the structure and function of cells cell biology tends to be overshadowed by molecular biology a field that developed contemporaneously This book remedies that unjust disparity through an investigation of cell biology's evolution and its role in pushing forward the boundaries of biological understanding Contributors show that modern concepts of cell organization mechanistic explanations epigenetics molecular thinking and even computational approaches all can be placed on the continuum of cell studies from cytology to cell biology and beyond The first book in the series Convening Science Discovery at the Marine Biological Laboratory Visions of Cell Biology sheds new light on a century of cellular discovery

Eleanor Rigby Zamir Osorov, 2014-06-18 This novel is as a keepsake It comes to us from times irreversible when the Kyrgyz Republic was still solidly embedded in the USSR and few people dared to dream about an independent future For most Kyrgyz contacts with the West were limited to the one way traffic of Beatles cassettes brought about by Soviet soldiers serving in Eastern Europe In those late seventies early eighties a period of stability in Soviet history the events of this story take place Four students experimenting with telepathy turn upside down their home village when one of them fixes in his dream a date with an English girl In expectation of her arrival the students agitate the whole population to tidy up their houses the streets and in the meantime their morality Kyrgyz tradition prescribes hospitality but the isolated village lacks of many elementary conveniences By depicting the struggle with the bureaucratic authorities which the students have to fight in order to improve the life circumstances the writer shows the defects of the political system The novel is a cultural critique a profound complaint against the mentality of inertness fostered throughout decades of Soviet rule Though the students are oriented to the West they love their homeland and keep hoping for a better future Now that reality has surpassed all dreams and Kyrgyzstan has become a democratic republic people ardently try to get rid of the past Contacts with the West flourish in the form of international organisations which aim to develop a civil society in Central Asia As a journalist the author is watching the changes in his country attentively His novel was an invitation for the West to come but the story doesn't end with it We can expect a following up since these times of transformation are fascinating for all who are interested in the young republics of the former USSR The editor Kirsten Verpaalen anthropologist

Fables and Futures George Estreich, 2025-05-27 How new biomedical technologies from prenatal testing to gene editing techniques require us to imagine who counts as human and what it means to belong From next generation prenatal tests to virtual children to the genome editing tool CRISPR Cas9 new biotechnologies grant us unprecedented power to predict and shape future people That power implies a question about belonging which people which variations will we welcome How will we square new biotech advances with the real but fragile gains for people with disabilities especially when their voices are all but absent from the conversation This book explores that conversation the troubled territory where biotechnology and disability meet In it George Estreich an award winning poet and memoirist and the father of a young woman with Down syndrome delves into popular representations of cutting edge biotech websites advertising next generation prenatal tests feature articles on three parent IVF a scientist s memoir of constructing a semisynthetic cell and more As Estreich shows each new application of biotechnology is accompanied by a persuasive story one that minimizes downsides and promises enormous benefits In this story people with disabilities are both invisible and essential a key promise of new technologies is that disability will be repaired or prevented In chapters that blend personal narrative and scholarship Estreich restores disability to our narratives of technology He also considers broader themes the place of people with disabilities in a world built for the able the echoes of eugenic history in the genomic present and the equation of intellect and human value Examining the stories we tell ourselves the fables already creating our futures Estreich argues that given biotech that can select and shape who we are we need to imagine as broadly as possible what it means to belong
