an intersubjective level enabling communication and community and how it furthers social and cultural change Selfless Love and Human Flourishing in Paul Tillich and Iris Murdoch Julia T. Meszaros, 2016-03-03 In an age of self affirmation and self assertion selfless love can appear as a threat to the lover's personal well being This perception jars with the Biblical promise that we gain our life through losing it and therefore calls for a theological response In conversation with the Protestant theologian Paul Tillich and the atheistic moral philosopher and novelist Iris Murdoch Selfless Love and Human Flourishing in Paul Tillich and Iris Murdoch enquires into the anthropological grounds on which selfless love can be said to build up rather than undermine the lover s self It proposes that while the implausibility of selfless love was furthered by the modern deconstruction of the self both Tillich and Murdoch utilize this very deconstruction towards explicating and restoring the link between selfless love and human flourishing Julia T Meszaros shows that they use the modern diagnosis of the human being s lack of a stable and independent self as manifest in Sartre's existentialism in support of an understanding of the self as relational and fallen This leads them to view a loving orientation away from self and a surrender to the other as critical to the full flourishing of human selfhood In arguing that Tillich and Murdoch defend the link between selfless love and human flourishing through reference to the human being s ontological selflessness Meszaros closely engages S ren Kierkegaard's earlier attempt to keep selfless love and human flourishing in a productive dialectical tension She also examines the breakdown of this tension in the later figures of Anders Nygren Simone Weil and Jean Paul Sartre and addresses the pitfalls of this breakdown Her examination concludes by arguing that the link between selfless love and human flourishing would be strengthened by a more resolute endorsement of a personal God and of the reciprocal nature of selfless Focus On: 100 Most Popular Tony Award Winners Wikipedia contributors, Death, Grief and Loss in the love Context of COVID-19 Panagiotis Pentaris, 2021-08-05 This book provides detailed analysis of the manifold ways in which COVID 19 has influenced death dying and bereavement Through three parts Reconsidering Death and Grief in Covid 19 Institutional Care and Covid 19 and the Impact of COVID 19 in Context the book explores COVID 19 as a reminder of our own and our communities fragile existence but also the driving force for discovering new ways of meaning making performing rites and rituals and conceptualising death grief and life Contributors include scholars researchers policymakers and practitioners accumulating in a multi disciplinary diverse and international set of ideas and perspectives that will help the reader examine closely how Covid 19 has invaded social life and re shaped trauma and loss It will be of interest to all scholars and students of death studies biomedicine and end of life care as well as those working in sociology social work medicine social policy cultural studies anthropology psychology counselling and nursing more broadly Critical Flicker Fusion William Fried, 2018-03-26 The premise of this book is that films like other works of the imagination may be elucidated by applying methods derived from psychoanalysis and that doing so will result in a deeper and richer appreciation of the film s meaning The book explores a number of feature films that lend themselves particularly well to this process Both in his
