Conference on Recent Advancements in Science and Engineering (RAiSE '23) KMCT College of Engineering for Women, 2023-05-09 The Underrepresentation of Women in Science: International and Cross-Disciplinary Evidence and Debate Stephen J. Ceci, Wendy M. Williams, Shulamit Kahn, 2018-04-20 There is no shortage of articles and books exploring women's underrepresentation in science. Everyone is interested: academics, politicians, parents, high school girls and boys, women in search of college majors, administrators working to accommodate women's educational interests; the list goes on. But one thing often missing is an evidence-based examination of the problem, uninfluenced by personal opinions, accounts of lived experiences, anecdotes, and the always encroaching inputs of popular culture. This is why this special issue of Frontiers in Psychology can make a difference. In it, a diverse group of authors and researchers with even more diverse viewpoints find themselves united by their empirical, objective approaches to understanding women's underrepresentation in science today. The questions considered within this special issue span academic disciplines, methods, levels of analysis, and nature of analysis; what these articles share is their scholarly, evidence-based approach to understanding a key issue of our time. Child Development at the Intersection of Race and SES, 2019-07-02 Child Development at the intersection of Race and SES Volume 57 in the Advances in Child Development and Behavior series presents theoretical and empirical scholarship illuminating how race, ethnicity, and socioeconomic status intersect to shape children's development and developmental contexts. Important chapters in this new release include: The Implications of Intersecting Socioeconomic and Racial Identities for Academic Achievement and Well-being; The Home Environment of Low Income Latino Children; Challenges and Opportunities; Profiles of Race, Ethnicity, and Socioeconomic Status; Implications for Ethnic Racial Identity, Discrimination, and Sleep; Youths' Sociopolitical Perceptions and Mental Health; Intersections between Race, Class, and Gender; and much more. Rather than focusing on the additive effects of race, ethnicity, and SES, which is typical and a limitation in the developmental literature, the scholarship in this book considers how the factors and processes shaping the development of children of color can differ markedly across the socioeconomic continuum. This collection illustrates how applying an intersectional lens to developmental science can yield unique insights into the challenges confronting and assets buoying both minority and majority children's healthy development.
