Neanderthal Paradox The Evil Returns The Neanderthal Paradox 4:

The Neanderthal Paradox Keith Argyle, Paul White, 2015-05-09 In a parallel universe the Faithful believe that the Futama will deliver them from the despotic empress Prua Landi. They send emissaries back in time who persuade Joe Laing to exchange his life in the early twenty-first century for an era seven hundred millennia into his future. In that distant time Prua Landi is attempting to exterminate every member of the Faithful sect. Joe is captured and the empress tortures him with powerful mental probes before killing him with a violent telepathic thrust. The vile act is witnessed by Sennit, a palace servant. The empress steps up her systematic extermination of the Faithful, unaware that an enclave has survived hidden within an underground complex. The survivors are barely managing to maintain their existence on little more than starvation rations. The death of their legendary leader has been a bitter blow, but even so they refuse to abandon hope of salvation from Prua Landi's tyranny. The Faithful develop a daring plan to enlist the help of a Futama from a parallel reality and so begin research towards their goal. Prua Landi hears rumours of the research and realises that if separate realities exist, she must beat the Faithful to the prize. If she eliminates the Futama in other universes, she can expand her empire. The race is on. Sennit had found sanctuary in the one place where the empress would never consider looking for members of the Faithful: within her palace. Three years have elapsed since the Futama's death, and when Sennit hears the empress and her cousin discussing plans for research into parallel realities, he absconds and seeks the last Faithful stronghold. After many months, Sennit reaches the underground complex, and at first he is treated with suspicion. He insists that he brings vital information and is taken for interrogation. After questioning under a voluntary mind probe, Sennit tells the Faithful that the empress has begun research into parallel realities using all the resources at her disposal. The bio-engineer reveals that he is an expert in advanced artificial intelligence and he rejuvenates the enclave's aging AI. Sennit then proceeds to grow a specialist artificial intelligence which leads to the breakthrough they desperately need. The Faithful develop a dimensional transfer machine, and the first attempt to send a monitor through the portal causes alarm in the target universe, where controls are quickly set up to prevent wholesale transfers between realities. Gillane, head of the government, insists that Joe Laing must be persuaded to accept their protection in case another version of Prua Landi is responsible for the inter-dimensional portal. Once Joe and his family are safe, the restrictions are temporarily removed to permit the passage of the monitor, and then immediately reactivated. The first human to crossover is Roma, who begs for help to end Prua Landi's tyranny. When Joe learns about the situation, he knows he must help Roma's people. No one doubts that what has already been achieved will be duplicated by Prua Landi, which means that she will attempt to kill Joe and his family. Joe must enter the parallel universe and end Prua Landi's reign of terror in order to prevent all-out war. The survivors in the enclave are supplied with food and medicine, and over a period of weeks, Joe trains the fittest survivors in martial arts skills. Prua Landi's first transfer returns instantly, claiming his arrival has been anticipated, and this forces the empress to relocate her transfer point. She finally enters the alternate reality intending to kill Joe but discovers that he can easily resist the power of her mind She flees back to her own reality and destroys the portals so that no one can pass through When the enclave is at last located by Theda Lan s agents the empress orders her forces to attack and Joe must lead his people in a final battle to decide the fate of both worlds The Quarterly Review of Biology Raymond Pearl,1929 Includes section New biological books and other bibliographies The Whole Story John E. Simkin,1996 This work is the only comprehensive guide to sequels in English with over 84 000 works by 12 500 authors in 17 000 sequences The Neanderthal Paradox - Every Future Has a Past Paul G. White,2012-06 Following his escape from the doomed Neanderthal timeline of Tarmis Joe Laing settles into a comfortable life with Ciara However Joe is restless and feels compelled to investigate the second time tunnel Ciara insists on accompanying him The tunnel leads to the distant past of the early Neanderthals where they encounter the builders of the time tunnels Though the builders are highly advanced once again Joe is welcomed as the Futama and it is then that Joe and Ciara discover Joe s destiny which is to lead his people in an uprising against the evil tyrant Prua Landi But Prua Landi does not intend to wait for the final confrontation she is determined to find Joe and kill him The Neanderthal Paradox Keith Argyle,Paul White,2015-06-13 The deposed empress Prua Landi has been exiled along with her acolyte Praeton to Mars 300 million years in the past when deep oceans cover much of the planetary surface Two Martian years into their exile having toiled on his own to make their existence more comfortable Praeton risks a violent death from a savage mind probe when he gives Prua Landi an ultimatum she must work to earn her food and shelter or starve Faced with appalling loneliness and starvation the exiled empress accedes to Praeton s ultimatum because she does not have the ability to survive on her own A volcano erupts many kilometres away destroying their home After they rebuild their house Praeton persuades Prua Landi to accompany him on an expedition to seek out volcanic glass to use as tools and weapons She reluctantly agrees but one night on their way to the site of the eruption they encounter small but savage predators The predators are mindlessly ferocious and Prua Landi is forced to use the power of her mind to kill them temporarily damaging her companion s mind as a consequence of her defensive action On their way back to the homestead they notice wider burrows indicating larger and potentially more lethal night crawlers They are left with no alternative but to exterminate the creatures by any means at their disposal After a ferocious struggle they wipe out the nest of night crawlers and salvage the meat and hides The two exiles now feel more alive than at any time in their lives Joe Laing and Ciara have settled into a comfortable life between the 21st Century and the far distant future of The Faithful They have a young son Jo na whose best friend Perlana is the daughter of Perdon and Prua Landi Jo na has inherited his father s nanomedics and is showing hints of telepathic ability coupled with above average intelligence His schoolteacher wishes Jo na to be placed in a school for the gifted and talented but Joe and Ciara refuse A report of this occurrence passes to Gray and Cawthor who have believed for some time that Joe Laing may have extra terrestrial origins Gray and Cawthor kidnap Jo na intending to examine his DNA but Joe cannot permit anyone to discover the nanomedics in his son's bloodstream Joe calls for help from his friends in the future and Gray and Cawthor have their memories modified by experts so they can never again recall the incident or pose a threat to the Laings But the Faithful in the distant future are restless They feel that Joe Laing their Futama should spend more time with them and Joe finally agrees to investiture as head of his people During the ceremony Joe is severely wounded in an assassination attempt and his life is saved only by means of the astute manipulation of time Joe's attackers are apprehended and it is discovered that the person behind the assassination attempt is no less than Prua Landi's cousin Theda Lan who along with the would be assassin Saetin is exiled to Mars Prua Landi is angry when she sees again the cousin whom she thought dead because despite her vicious nature the former empress had always held Theda Lan in the highest regard Now she feels betrayed The two powerful women agree to a truce but on a hunt to exterminate more night crawlers the new exiles are both killed Years later Perlana accidentally discovers that Prua Landi is her real mother and persuades her best friend Jo na Laing to help her steal a timeship so that she can see her mother in the flesh rather than in the Histories It is only when the two youngsters are captured by Prua Landi and Praeton that Perlana comes to realise that the Histories have understated her mother's penchant for evil And when the former empress forces them to embark upon a mission to Earth to raise an army Jo na and Perlana must do everything in their power to thwart her plans

The Neanderthal Paradox: Paul White, Keith Argyle, 2015-04-05 Joe Laing has recently escaped the doomed timeline of Tarmis in which the Neanderthal race had survived to modern times due to Joe's meddling with their development some 35 000 years in the past Although he is now happily married to Ciara Joe is getting restless he feels compelled to investigate the second of the time tunnels Ciara however insists on accompanying him despite the potential danger Assisted by Or gon his Neanderthal friend the only survivor of the erased Tarmis timeline Joe bridges the chasm blocking the tunnel and with Ciara by his side steps into the unknown They emerge at a place Joe recognises the complex of living accommodation and laboratories that lies behind the sacred cave of the Neanderthals Yet now everything seems new which means that he and Ciara are deeper into the past than Joe had previously travelled They are taken prisoner by tall people similar in appearance to Prua Landi the woman who had tried to destroy Joe in Tarmis Marron one of their captors is unduly suspicious of Joe and Ciara and attempts to question them using telepathic methods forbidden by his people His companion Romana who is a doctor insists on the prisoners being brought before the base commander Leiki He is a friendly but intense individual who explains that they are more than 250 000 years into Joe and Ciara's past Leiki questions Joe and it transpires to everyone's amazement that Joe is also the Futama in Leiki's natural time which is almost one million years into the future Leiki's people are known as The Faithful because of their unshakeable belief in the coming of the Futama They have the technology to travel easily through time and have escaped persecution at Prua Landi's hand in their own natural time by fleeing to the past of the early Neanderthal people They have built the tunnel complex but their main refuge is now on Mars at a period 300 million years in the past when Mars is covered with oceans and forests and Earth is in the late Carboniferous era It is to Mars that Joe must travel because there he must train an army to free the Faithful from Prua Landi s evil regime He must do this because he is their Futama Because of the potential danger Joe insists that he take Ciara home But by means of inferior time travel technology Prua Landi has followed him to the 21st century and if she cannot recruit him then she intends to kill him Leiki has assigned Analy and Trione as Joe s bodyguards and they are forced to use their deadly plasma weapons to defend him against an attack by Prua Landi In the resultant explosion Joe s house is almost destroyed and Prua Landi escapes back to her own time in the most freakish of circumstances However she is severely burned and it takes prompt action by her doctors and her internal nanomedics to save her Her narrow escape from death increases Prua Landi s determination to destroy Joe whom she now suspects is the fabled Futama the one the Faithful believe despite his primitive origins is destined to end her regime On Mars having experienced the destructive power of plasma weapons Joe decides that he must develop tactics to minimise death and devastation amongst his people of the future To this end he trains an army in various martial arts allied to a rigorous fitness regime When at last Joe is satisfied at the levels of skill and fitness shown by his troops he knows the time has come for the final assault to free his people and bring Prua Landi to justice

The Neanderthal Paradox - Journey to the Past Paul G. White, 2012-06 Whilst walking on his local beach Joe Laing discovers a gateway leading 35 000 years into the past There he is welcomed by a tribe of Neanderthals as their Futama whose legend has survived amongst the primitive people for 200 000 years In the Neanderthal past he discovers a cave system carved out by the enigmatic builders of the time tunnels Eventually his interaction with the Neanderthal people creates a separate timeline in which the Neanderthal race survives to develop an advanced technological civilisation In this changed timeline Joe realises that his present past and future are inextricably linked with Prua Landi a tyrant from the distant future who seeks relentlessly to kill him and to destroy the builders of the tunnels The Neanderthal Paradox Journey to the Past is the first book in a trilogy spanning space and time from the far future to the distant past
