Nelson Mandela Metropolitan 2015 Prospects:

The African Union Tony Karbo, Tim Murithi, 2017-11-23 The African Union has been a major factor in establishing peace security and development in Africa Today however the intranational body is struggling in the midst of a perceived dissipating appetite for supporting continental institutions Previously seen as the panacea to Africa's continuing problems with violence and corruption in society under the slogan African Solutions to African Problems the African Union this book argues seems to have run its course Recognizing that the measured successes in political emancipation which have been recorded across the African continent do not seem to have translated into economic and social gains for its 1.2 billion citizens the AU adopted a new development framework dubbed Agenda 2063 The framework calls on African leaders to rediscover the Pan African spirit and to create the Africa Africans want In practice this means a new focus and engagement with the African Diaspora tapping into their strong track record in economic development As this book shows however there remain deep differences over the meaning timing and sequencing of pan African integration Indeed different member states have different understandings of the role of the African Union itself This essential handbook from one of the leading research institutions on the continent seeks to uncover what some of those understandings are and why the unification project has remained so elusive

The State and Development in South Africa Isaac Khambule, 2025-09-16 This book interrogates the nexus between the state and development in post apartheid South Africa It highlights current problems and suggests ways of consolidating state capabilities improving public institutions and enhancing governance and development outcomes Framed around developmental state theory the book argues that the role of the state in South Africa will be fundamental for addressing the triple challenges of unemployment poverty and inequality There is a growing concern that South Africa is at a development impasse with ongoing crises in energy infrastructure and unemployment The chapters investigate the role of the post apartheid state in pursuing development and navigating a neoliberal globalised society The book explores state capacity in all spheres of government the relationship between politics and bureaucracy and the role of state owned enterprises in the country's developmental aspirations The book concludes by summarising the successes challenges and lessons that have emerged over the course of the book and anticipating future directions or possibilities for the state in South Africa's development impasse Bringing together leading voices in the field this book will be an essential read for researchers of African politics political economy and development The book is also relevant for policymakers students and practitioners in social sciences

Routledge Handbook of Urban Planning in Africa Carlos Nunes Silva, 2019-10-28 This handbook contributes with new evidence and new insights to the on going debate on the decolonization of knowledge on urban planning in Africa African cities grew rapidly since the mid 20th century in part due to rising rural migration and rapid internal demographic growth that followed the independence in most African countries This rapid urbanization is commonly seen as a primary cause of the current urban management challenges with which African cities are confronted This importance given to rapid urbanization prevented the due consideration of other dimensions of the current urban problems challenges and changes in African cities The contributions to this handbook explore these other dimensions looking in particular to the nature and capacity of local self government and to the role of urban governance and urban planning in the poor urban conditions found in most African cities It deals with current and contemporary urban challenges and urban policy responses but also offers an historical overview of local governance and urban policies during the colonial period in the late 19th and 20th centuries offering ample evidence of common features and divergent features as well on a number of facets from intra urban racial segregation solutions to the relationships between the colonial power and the natives to the assimilation policy as practiced by the French and Portuguese and the Indirect Rule put in place by Britain in some or in part of its colonies Using innovative approaches to the challenges confronting the governance of African cities this handbook is an essential read for students and scholars of Urban Africa urban planning in Africa and African Development Human Trafficking in Africa Alecia Dionne Hoffman, Sabella Ogbobode Abidde, 2021-12-13 This edited volume examines the contemporary practice of human trafficking on the African continent It investigates the scourge of human trafficking in Africa from the broader international and regional perspectives as well as from a country specific context Written by a multi disciplinary panel of academics and practitioners the book is divided into three sections that highlight a wide range of issues Section One examines the theoretical and legal challenges of trafficking Section Two focuses on the regional and nation state perspectives of human trafficking along with selected cases of trafficking Section Three highlights the impact of trafficking on youth with specific attention given to child soldiering and female victims of trafficking Providing a multi faceted approach to a problem that crosses multiple disciplines this volume will be useful to scholars and students interested in African politics African studies migration human rights sociology law and economics as well as members of the diplomatic corps governmental intergovernmental and non governmental organizations Xenophobia, Nativism and Pan-Africanism in

21st Century Africa Sabella Ogbobode Abidde, Emmanuel Kasonde Matambo, 2021-12-14 This edited volume systematically analyzes the connection between xenophobia nativism and Pan Africanism It situates attacks on black Africans by fellow black Africans within the context of ideals such as Pan Africanism and Ubuntu which emphasize unity The book straddles a range of social science perspectives to explain why attacks on foreign nationals in Africa usually entail attacks on black foreign nationals Written by an international and interdisciplinary team of scholars the book is divided into four sections that each explain a different facet of this complicated relationship Section One discusses the history of colonialism and apartheid and their relationship to xenophobia Section Two critically evaluates Pan Africanism as a concept and as a practice in 21st century Africa Section Three presents case studies on xenophobia in contemporary Africa Section Four similarly discusses cases of nativism Addressing a complex issue in contemporary African politics this volume will be of use to students and scholars interested in African studies African politics human rights migration history law and development economics
