

Instructions for Using the NCAA Women's Volleyball Scoresheet

Before the Match

Preparing Scoresheets for the Match

Before the start of a match, the scorer prepares all scoresheets by printing the heading information in blue or black ink. This includes the Tourney, Place, Division, Match, Date, Day and Time Match Scheduled at the top of the scoresheet, and the names of the First Referee, Second Referee, Scorer and Line Judges at the bottom of the scoresheet. The scorer enters the name of the line judge working on the first referee's side of the court on the top line and the name of the line judge working on the second referee's side of the court on the second line.

Preparing Scoresheets for Each Set

After the home team has selected a bench, the scorer enters more information for the first set.

- On the left side of the scoresheet, the scorer prints the name of the TEAM that will play on the court to the left of the scorer.
- On the right side of the scoresheet, the scorer prints the name of the TEAM that will play on the court to the right of the scorer.
- After the coin toss, the scorer circles the S on the side of the team that will serve first, and circles the SET number in the lower right section of the scoresheet.

Team names and first serve designation can now be completed on the scoresheets for all nondeciding sets of the match.

Recording Lineups

The scorer obtains a lineup sheet from each team, usually via the second referee. The scorer then performs the following tasks:

- Confirms that the coach or team captain has signed the lineup sheet and indicated the playing captain.
- Notifies the second referee if no libero is indicated or if any illegal/duplicate numbers are entered on the lineup sheet.
- Checks that all coaches are designated on the lineup sheet for the first set.
- Prevents teams from seeing the lineups submitted by their opponents.
- For the first set, ensures that the players' numbers on the lineup sheet are not changed after the clock timing the pre-match warm-up segments is at the one-minute mark, unless a substitution is used. For other sets, ensures that the players' numbers on the lineup sheet are not changed after it is submitted, unless a substitution is used.

The scorer and assistant scorer should record the lineups when they are submitted; lineups must be submitted no later than the three-minute mark on the clock timing the pre-match warm-up segments. Using the lineup sheets, the scorer writes the players' uniform numbers in serving order in the PLAYERS' NUMBERS column. Enter the serving team's right back on line I on the serving team's side of the scoresheet, and the receiving team's right front on line I on the receiving team's side.

The scorer writes a c after the captain's number for each team and enters the libero's number (if one is designated on the lineup sheet) in the space beside the L at the top of the PLAYERS' NUMBERS column. Statistics crews and announcers should not be provided lineup information until it is recorded by the scorers and finalized at the one-minute mark for the first set.

The second referee uses the lineup sheets to confirm that the correct players are on the court in the correct order before each set. At the same time, the scorer uses the scoresheet to verify that both teams are correctly lined up. The time that the set begins is recorded when the first referee signals for the first serve of the set.
